PREFACE.

"THE publication of a Nursing Directory of a strictly official and neutral character has long appeared to many of those who have considered the question to be an undertaking which would be directly advantageous to the Nursing Profession, and would at the same time afford to the public some measure of protection against those women who, with little or no training worthy of the name, advertise themselves as competent attendants upon the sick."

So we wrote in January, 1895, when we were sanguine enough to imagine that the present Directory would see the light towards the end of that year. As a matter of fact the undertaking has proved an extremely arduous one, laborious and costly in character, and even now that nearly three years have been spent upon it, lacking in some points that completeness which the Editorial Committee would gladly have seen in it.

The obstacles have indeed proved very great. Much trouble for example has been caused by the loose manner in which many Nurses filled in the Application Forms, and from their frequent changes of address. Hence a great deal of unnecessary correspondence and time lost in tracing their whereabouts. Moreover, the difficulties in the way of verification have been no less serious, due in part to the haphazard fashion in which Hospitals' Registers were formerly kept, to an actual absence of records, to the uncritical way in which the returns have in some instances been examined, and lastly, to the refusal up to the present time of some few Matrons to verify the particulars of training relating to their Nurses. It has been the earnest desire of the Editorial Committee to make the Directory "official" in the sense that the information given in it relating to Nurses and Training Schools is either derived from official sources or has been verified by competent authorities. They regret, therefore, that in a few instances they have not received that assistance in this part of their labours to which they might reasonably have looked. At the same time they welcome the opportunity now afforded them of returning their sincere acknowledgments to that numerous body of helpers throughout the Empire—Matrons, Secretaries, Managers of Hospitals and others—without whose cordial approbation and painstaking assistance the present Directory would never have been published.

It may we well here to repeat what was said in the prospectus of the work, that the compilers of the Directory do not claim for it any authority analogous to that possessed by the Medical Register, nor do they believe that the time has yet arrived when a rigid conformity in curriculum and period of training can be forced upon those who desire to place their names upon a Directory of Trained Nurses. What the Directory does is to state the facts as nearly as they can be ascertained. Anyone possessing this Directory can ascertain the experience or training of each nurse whose name appears in it. The Compilers have reserved to themselves the right of excluding any name from the Directory, and of declining to register any particulars with reference to work, training, or professional experience which appeared to be insufficiently authenticated or otherwise unsuitable.

Having said so much upon the scope of the Directory proper, it remains only for us to add a few remarks upon the other information included in the volume with the purpose of rendering it more generally valuable, both to the public and to the Medical and Nursing Profession. Great pains have been expended upon obtaining at first hand full particulars regarding the various Nurse Training Schools throughout the country. These facts will, it is believed, prove helpful to the Managers of Hospitals by affording them ready means of comparison between their own and other schools, and will at the same time serve as a guide to that large class of women, who in increasing numbers are attracted to Nursing as a career in life. It will be noticed that we have divided those hospitals at which probationers are trained into two sections—first, those containing 100 beds and over, including the large Nurse Training Schools and those Poor Law Infirmaries which at the present time train Nurses; and secondly those containing under 100 beds, with which are grouped the Special Hospitals. Cross references are given in the latter section to those Nursing Institutions which indirectly train Nurses by accepting untrained women and sending them for training, for a longer or a shorter period, to a regular Nurse Training School.

In each section relating to the United Kingdom the institutions have been arranged under the headings of London, Provincial, Scotch, and Irish, and for convenience an Index to the institutional portion of the book has been added, by means of which not only can any particular institution be easily found, but persons wishing to be trained in any special branch of nursing, say Fever Nursing or Midwifery, will find a list of institutions, particulars of which are given in the book, at which facilities for such special training can be had.

Sections have also been added giving useful particulars concerning the Government Nursing Services, Institutions which employ Nurses, Institutions existing for the benefit of Nurses, examining bodies whose diplomas are held by Nurses, the methods in vogue for training attendants on the Insane, and, as a means of comparison, some typical Hospitals and Nurse Training Schools in the Colonies and the United States of America. Finally, the Section on the principal laws which affect nurses cannot fail in practice to prove one of the most useful sections of the book.

OUTLINE OF THE PRINCIPAL LAWS AFFECTING NURSES.

I.—OUTLINE OF THE PRINICIPAL LAWS AFFECTING NURSES.

An attempt is here made to set forth as clearly and concisely as possible an outline of those branches of the law which are most likely to affect nurses in the practice of their profession. There are no laws peculiar to nurses.

Engagement.

The terms on which a nurse is engaged depend on the contract entered into in each case. They of course, always involve the payment to her of certain wages, and the performance by her of certain duties. Where she is engaged by, or on behalf of, a private patient, her duty is confined to nursing the particular case for which she is employed, and she receives her wages directly from the patient or other persons employing her. The case is the same if she enters or avails herself of the services of an institution established for the purpose of bringing nurses into communication with employers. An institution of this kind is merely a nursing agency. It receives a commission or other payment for introducing the nurse to the person who engages her, but the contract of employment is made between the nurse and the patient or his friends direct. The position of a nurse who enters a hospital or nursing home or other similar institution is different. In such a case the nurse usually engages in return for a certain salary, and possibly other advantages, to give her services for the benefit of the institution for either hospital or private nursing as may be required. If she is sent out for private nursing the contract for her services is made by the patient or his friends with, and the remuneration is payable to, the institution, and not her. Where a nurse is employed by an institution of this kind, the duties expected of her are often stated in printed regulations which, together with all the other rules of the institution, she by accepting the engagement binds herself to perform and keep. It need hardly be said that whether a nurse is engaged in private nursing or is in the employment of an institution, the contract which she enters into includes an obligation to nurse the patients entrusted to her with care and diligence, and it must be added (at all events where she professes to be trained) with competent skill.

Period of Engagement and Dismissal.

The period for which a nurse is engaged and the mode in which her engagement may be terminated vary according to circumstances. If she is employed by a hospital or other institution, the term of employment and the mode in which dismissal may take place are usually prescribed by the rules. Thus it frequently happens that the power of dismissal is, by the rules, solely vested in a committee of the governing body; or it may be entrusted to the matron or lady superintendent, with or without a right of appeal to a committee of the governors. In such a case a nurse can only be validly dismissed in the prescribed manner, and by the prescribed authority. In other cases a special arrangement may be made with the nurse as to the term for which she is employed, and as to the notice (if any) required for her discharge. In default of any other circumstances by which these questions can be determined, regard must be had to the interval at which the wages are paid. If they are paid weekly then, in the absence of anything to the contrary, the engagement is from week to week, and a week's notice of dismissal is required. If they are paid monthly or at any other interval, then similarly the engagement is by the month or otherwise, as the case may be, and a corresponding notice is required for dismissal. And in any case the employment may be immediately terminated by payment of a week's or month's wages (or as the case may be) in lieu of notice.

If the employment, instead of being from week to week or from month to month, is for an ascertained period, it expires with the termination of that period, and no notice of dismissal or wages in lieu of notice need be given.

It is conceived that the rule of custom, applicable in the case of menial servants, that a month's notice is required to terminate the engagement on either side, has no application to a sick nurse.

Apart from any contract as to the circumstances under which dismissal may take place, the engagement of a nurse may at any time be summarily determined for misconduct without notice or wages in lieu of notice. Thus wilful disobedience or gross insolence, habitual neglect of duties and great incapacity, together with more serious offences, are grounds for instant dismissal and forfeiture of wages.

Action for Wrongful Dismissal.

A nurse who is wrongfully dismissed can maintain an immediate action for damages, the measure of damage being the loss which, in the opinion of a jury, she has actually sustained. Wrongful dismissal means dismissal otherwise than in accordance with the contract which was entered into. If, therefore, the nurse was hired by the week, and she receives a week's notice of discharge or a week's wages in lieu of such notice, no action is maintainable by her whatever the reason for the discharge may have been, for the engagement was from week to week and has been duly determined. But if she is dismissed at a moment's notice, without sufficient cause and without wages in lieu of notice, the action will lie, for her dismissal has been improper, and her employer has broken the contract which he made with her. In rare cases an improper dismissal may be restrained by injunction, but this remedy is seldom appropriate.

Recovery of Wages.

If the nurse's wages are not duly paid an action will lie for the recovery of them. Where the amount claimed is less than £50 the action should be brought in the County Court, but in other cases in the High Court. In the case of a nurse engaged in private nursing, the person to be sued is, of course, the person who employs her. In the case of a nurse employed by an institution, the institution itself cannot be sued unless it is (as is the case with many hospitals) a corporate body; but the person who actually entered into the contract of engagement with the nurse, although such person may be merely a matron or lady superintendent or other official, is, as a rule, personally liable to pay her salary. And if the contract was entered into by, or under the direction of, a committee, then every member of the committee who attended the meeting at which the contract was entered into or authorised is primâ facie liable upon it. It may, however, be one of the terms on which a nurse is employed that she shall look for payment only to the funds of the institution. If this is so no action for wages can be brought against the official or the members of the committee who engaged her.

Treatment of Patients.

The liability of a nurse in respect of bodily injury to a patient improperly committed is the same as that of any other person would be. If the injury was wilful, that is, if there was an intention to injure, she may be prosecuted criminally. And whether the injury has been committed wilfully or not, she may be rendered liable in a civil action for damages.

She may also be responsible in damages for an injury resulting to a patient from gross negligence, for there is an obligation upon a nurse to be careful in the discharge of her duties. And if the negligence was wilful, that is, if the nurse was conscious that she had not taken proper and ordinary care, and that she was incurring the risk of causing harm to the patient, she might also be liable to a criminal prosecution, of course involving punishment proportionate to the gravity of the offence. An example will render this clear. Let it be supposed that a doctor orders a patient a warm bath, and the nurse whose duty it is to carry out the order makes the bath so hot that the patient is scalded. Here there are three possible alternatives. The nurse may have intended to scald the patient; or she may have placed the patient in the bath although she knew that she had not ascertained whether the water was at the proper temperature; or she may without any wrong intention have placed the patient in the bath carelessly and without thought. In the first case there is present an intention to injure the patient, and the act is consequently criminal. In the second case there is conscious negligence, and the act is again criminal. In the third case there is simple carelessness, and the liability involved is in damages only. Again, let it be supposed that the doctor has ordered a particular medicine, and the nurse administers another which causes injury to the patient. The three alternatives are again possible. The wrong medicine may have been wilfully administered, in which case there is criminal liability. Or it may have been given with conscious ignorance on the part of the nurse whether it was the right medicine or not, in which case there is wilful negligence, and again criminal liability is involved. On the other hand it may have been given thoughtlessly but without any intention to injure or even to be negligent. In this case the liability is in damages alone. Where damages can be recovered, and the patient dies, they may be recovered for the benefit of his or her wife, husband, parent or child.

A Nurse not a Doctor.

It is perhaps hardly necessary to point out that a nurse is not a doctor. Her position is subservient to that of the doctor. She is there to carry out his orders; but she is not entitled to prescribe for the patient herself, or to decide what method of treatment is proper for the disease from which the patient is suffering. There is no law which can prevent any person, even a nurse, from prescribing for a patient if desired to do so. But to discharge a function of this kind without possessing the requisite skill and knowledge, which only a medical training can give, is to tread on dangerous ground. Any person who deals with the life or health of any of her Majesty's subjects is bound to have proper skill and knowledge, and if a patient dies for want of it, such person is guilty of manslaughter. Similarly, if the patient is injured without dying, there is a corresponding liability, and, in any case, the person who presumes to prescribe without possessing competent knowledge, may be liable to an action for damages.

Contributory Negligence.

Damages are not recoverable where there has been what is technically called "contributory negligence" on the part of the patient himself. Thus, if (although there may have been negligence on the part of the nurse) the injury is the immediate result, not of that negligence, but of negligence on the part of the patient, or if the patient has by his own carelessness directly contributed to the injury, he is precluded from recovering damages.

Abortion.

Any attempt by drug or instrument to procure a miscarriage, whether the woman is actually with child or not, is a felony and heavily punishable. And it is a misdemeanour, also involving liability to serious punishment, to supply or procure a drug or instrument, knowing that it is intended to be used for such a purpose.

Gifts from Patients.

A gift obtained from a patient by undue influence is liable to be set aside, whether it consists of a bequest by will or of a gift during life. In the case of a gift by will the burden of proving undue influence rests upon those who allege it. In the case of a gift during life the rule is more strict. Where a doctor obtains a benefit from his patient during life, there is a presumption of law that it was obtained by undue influence, and it will be set aside unless it can be proved that it was the voluntary act of the patient. The ground of this rule is that a doctor stands towards his patient in a position which enables him to exercise great influence over him. It is conceived that in a less degree a similar position is occupied by a sick nurse, and that a considerable benefit obtained by her from a patient would be presumed (unless the contrary was clearly proved) to have been obtained by an improper use of the influence which her relationship with the patient placed her in a position to exercise.

This does not, of course, apply to small gifts, bestowed as tokens of friendship or gratitude.

In the case of a hospital nurse, the rules of the hospital generally preclude the acceptance of any gift from a patient.

Defamation of Character.

Verbal defamation is called slander, and written defamation is called libel. Either may be made the subject of a civil action for damages, provided the statement alleged to be slanderous or libellous is false and disparaging, and is published maliciously.

Publication is not confined to making known to the public, but includes making known to any person other than the person against whom the libel or slander is directed. Malice is presumed in every case where the slander or libel was not published on a privileged occasion. Where the communication is privileged no action will lie, unless express malice is proved.

In the case of a slander, though not in the case of a libel, special damage must be proved, otherwise the action will not succeed. This rule is, however, subject to important exceptions. A slander falsely imputing to a person the commission of a criminal offence, or misconduct in, or want of some necessary qualification for his or her profession, is actionable per se without the necessity of proving special damage, for in such a case the law presumes that the person against whom the slander is directed has suffered damage.

A person who repeats a libel or slander is equally liable with the person who originated it.

A character of a nurse, as, indeed, of any other person seeking employment, given bonâ fide to a person requesting it is privileged, and therefore not actionable unless express malice can be proved.

Nurses as Witnesses.

No person is bound to attend as a witness at a trial, unless duly served with a subpœna for that purpose. If subpœnas for different cases are served for the same time, a criminal prosecution takes precedence over a civil action. In all other cases the subpœna first served should be the one complied with.

Giving Evidence.

It is by no means easy to give evidence properly. There are, however, a few elementary rules, the careful observance of which is of the utmost importance. The duty of a nurse called as a witness (as indeed of every witness except a professional witness who may be called upon to express an opinion) is to confine her evidence to facts within her own personal knowledge. She is not, as a rule, expected or entitled to express an opinion, and she should be most careful to avoid stating as facts things which are known to her only by hearsay, or which are merely matters of inference. The facts which she does know, she should state simply, without exaggeration on on the one hand, and without any attempt at concealment on the other. She is there to give information to the court, and she is not responsible for, and must not take into consideration the consequences which may ensue. It is perhaps superfluous to say that if facts are to be clearly stated they must be clearly arranged in the mind of the witness. This will often require careful thought, which should of course be bestowed in advance ; and it will be found of material advantage in any case in which there is a probability of being called as a witness to make notes of the circumstances at or shortly after the time at which they occurred.

The demeanour of a witness should be quiet and respectful. The questions addressed to her should be answered as shortly and simply as possible, and she should be careful, especially in cross-examination, not to be led away from the facts which she knows, and which alone she is competent to state. Any attempt to return smart or frivolous answers should be studiously avoided.

Expenses.

In the case of a civil action a nurse like every other witness is entitled to be paid a sum sufficient to cover the reasonable expenses of attending the court. And she cannot be compelled to give evidence until this has been done. The objection that her expenses have not been paid cannot, however, be raised after the witness has been sworn. A nurse summoned as a witness in an action in the High Court cannot claim compensation for loss of time, but in very exceptional cases a payment of this kind may be allowed. In the County Courts a different rule prevails. Every witness in a County Court is not only entitled to the reasonable expenses of coming to, staying at and returning from the place of trial, but also to an allowance for loss of time. The allowance in the case of a female varies from 2s. 6d. to 10. 6d. per day.

In criminal proceedings there is no obligation to tender a witness her expenses unless she is required to come from one distinct part of the United Kingdom to another. In such last-mentioned case, however, she cannot be compelled to obey the subpœna unless she was at the time of service tendered a sum sufficient to cover the reasonable expenses of coming and returning.

The costs of the attendance of witnesses at an inquest are usually provided for by the local authority, and paid by the coroner.

In the case of a summary conviction no tender of expenses is required, and it is in the discretion of the magistrates whether costs will be allowed or not.

Infectious Diseases.

A penalty not exceeding £5 is imposed on any one suffering from an infectious disease of any of the kinds requiring notification (see post) who exposes himself, or on any one in charge of such a person who exposes him, without proper precautions against spreading the infection, in any street, public place, shop, or inn; and also on any one who gives, sells, removes, or exposes any bedding, clothing, or other articles which have been exposed to infection.

A penalty of the same amount, with a further penalty in case the offence continues of £2 for every day during which it continues, is also imposed on any person who throws or permits to be thrown infected rubbish into an ash-pit or other receptacle for refuse without disinfecting them. Outside the metropolis, however, this only applies in districts in which the Infectious Diseases (Prevention) Act, 1890, has been adopted.

Disinfecting.

In London places for the disinfection of articles infected by any diseases requiring notification, together with the means of removal, must be provided by the sanitary authorities, and they may be provided for articles infected by any disease. In country districts places for disinfection may similarly be provided, but it is not compulsory.

Conveyance of Infected Persons.

In London the conveyance of an infected person in a public conveyance is absolutely prohibited. The driver of the conveyance (if he knows that he is conveying an infected person), the person who placed him in the conveyance, and the infected person himself are each of them liable to a penalty not exceeding £10; and the driver may also recover from the infected person and from the person who caused him to be conveyed, the cost of disinfecting the conveyance.

Outside the metropolitan area a penalty of £5 is imposed on a person suffering from an infectious disease who exposes himself in a public conveyance, without taking proper precautions against spreading the infection, or who enters a public conveyance without notifying to the owner, conductor, or driver that he is suffering from such disease, and any person in charge of the infected person who so exposes him is liable to the like penalty. An infected person who enters a conveyance contrary to these rules is also liable to pay the expense of disinfecting it.

A conveyance and attendants for the removal of an infectious patient can always be obtained from the Metropolitan Asylums Board.

Notification.

In London a case of infectious disease occurring in a house, which includes a school or any factory or building in which persons are employed, always requires to be notified to the medical officer of health of the district. Outside London similar notification is required in districts in which the Infectious Diseases (Notification) Act, 1889, has been adopted by the sanitary authority.

The duty of giving the notice does not usually fall upon the nurse, but it may do so. It is imposed in the first instance on the head of the family to which the patient belongs, and, in default of him, on the nearest relatives of the patient present in the house or in attendance on the patient. In default of any of these the duty is cast on every person in charge of, or in attendance on, the patient, which would, of course, include the nurse. In the last resort it falls upon the person having the charge, management, and control of the building.

A penalty of 40s. is imposed on omission to send the notice, but a person (such as a nurse) who is only required to send it in default of some other person, is not punishable if she can satisfy the court that she had reasonable cause to believe that the notice had been sent by some other person.

The notice may be sent to the medical officer of health at either his office or his residence.

Diseases requiring Notification.

The diseases requiring notification are small-pox, cholera, diphtheria, membranous croup, erysipelas, scarlatina or scarlet fever, and all fevers known as typhus, typhoid, enteric, relapsing, continued, or puerperal. And the sanitary authority of the district may enlarge the list.

Registration of Births and Deaths.

Cases may arise (although this is not usually the case) in which the duty of registering a birth or death may fall upon the nurse.

Births.

In the case of a birth the duty of registration is imposed in the first place on the father and mother, and in default of them upon the occupier of the house in which to the knowledge of such occupier the child was born, and upon each person present at the birth, and upon the person having charge of the child, which may, of course, include a nurse. The duty comprises giving information to the registrar of births and deaths for the sub-district in which the birth took place within forty-two days thereafter (not including the day of birth) of the date and place of birth, the name (if any) and sex of the child, the name and rank or profession of the father, the name and maiden surname of the mother, and the signature description and residence of the informant.

If the birth is not registered within the above period, the registrar may by notice in writing require any of the persons above mentioned to attend personally within such time (not less that seven days after the receipt of the notice, and not more than three months after the birth) as he may specify, to give the required information and to sign the register.

If the registration has not taken place within three months, the registrar may before the expiration of twelve month from the birth, by notice in writing, require any of the same persons to make a declaration before the superintendent registrar of the particulars required for registration and to sign the register.

After twelve months a birth cannot be registered without the written authority of the Registrar General.

The name of the father of an illegitimate child cannot be entered on the register except at the joint request of himself and the mother. The birth of a still-born child is of course not registered.

Deaths.

The duty of registering a death falls (where an inquest is held) upon the coroner. In other cases it devolves in the first place upon the nearest relatives of the deceased present at his death or in attendance during his last illness, and in default of them upon every other relative of the deceased dwelling or being in the same sub-district and, in default of them, upon each person present at the death, and the occupier of the house in which to his knowledge the death took place. In default of any of these persons the duty falls upon each inmate of the house in which the death took place, and upon the person causing the body to be buried. The information required for registration comprises the date, cause, and place of death, the name, sex, age, and rank or profession of the deceased, and the signature, residence and description of the informant, and such information must be given to the best of the informant's knowledge and belief.

A death is required to be registered within five days, exclusive of the day of death; but if notice of the fact of death accompanied by the death certificate is sent to the registrar, a further period of fourteen days from the death, but exclusive of the day of death, is allowed for the other particulars.

If the death is not registered within this period, the registrar may at any time within twelve months from the death, by notice in writing, require any of the persons above mentioned to attend personally for the purpose of supplying the information required, and to sign the register. After the expiration of twelve months a death cannot be registered without the written authority of the Registrar-General.

The doctor's certificate of death should be handed to one of the persons whose duty it is to register the death, and the person receiving the certificate is bound, under a penalty of 40s., to deliver it to the registrar when giving notice of the death.

A fine of 40s. is imposed on refusal to answer a requisition by the registrar for information, and to wilfully give false information entails liability to severe penalties.

Burial of Still-born Child.

A nurse may in some cases be required to make a declaration for the purpose of enabling a still-born child to be buried. A still-born child cannot be buried unless the person in control of the burial-ground is furnished with (a) the certificate of a registered medical practitioner who was present at the birth, or examined the body, that the child was not born alive; (b) a declaration to the like effect signed by some person who would, if the child had been born alive, have been required to register the birth, and stating that no registered medical practitioner was present at the birth, or that his certificate cannot be obtained; or (c) if there has been an inquest, an order of the coroner. The burial of a deceased child as though it were still-born entails a penalty of £10.

Concealment of Birth.

Any attempt to conceal the birth of a child, whether born alive or not, by secretly disposing of the body, is a criminal offence.

II.—GENERAL HOSPITALS AND POOR LAW INFIRMARIES, WITH 100 BEDS AND OVER, WHICH TRAIN PROBATIONERS.

LONDON.

Cancer Hospital (Free), Fulham Road, Brompton, S.W. Beds, 105. MATRON, Miss A. Rogers; 8 Nurses; 14 Probationers.

Particulars not received.

Charing Cross Hospital, Agar Street, West Strand, W.C. Beds, 175. LADY SUPT., Miss H. A. C. Gordon; 10 Sisters; 10 Staff Nurses; 12 Night Nurses; 23 Probationers. The number of nurses on the private staff varies. Applications average 1500, and vacancies about 16 yearly.

Candidates should be at least 23 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. After a personal interview and 1 month's trial applicants are received for a course of 3 years' training. LECTURES are given by Dr. Willcocks and Mr. Stanley Boyd upon elementary physiology and anatomy with special reference to the requirements of medical and surgical nursing; practical instruction is given in the wards under the supervision of the matron and sisters, and a certificate is granted after the satisfactory performance of duty. RECREATION, 2 or 2½ hours daily; half-day weekly; sisters and nurses alternate Sundays; 1 day monthly; from 2 to 5 weeks' holiday in a year. PREMIUM, nil. SALARY.—Probationers, 1st year, nil; 2nd year, £15; 3rd year, £20; Nurses, £22, rising to £25; Sisters, £30 per annum. An allowance of 2s. per week is made for laundry; indoor and outdoor uniform is provided. Promotion to posts in the hospital is gained by merit.

Chelsea Infirmary, Cale Street, S.W. Beds, 386. MATRON, Miss Josephine Lucy de Pledge; ASSISTANT MATRON, Miss B. Mackay; 1 Night Superintendent; 7 Charge Nurses; 25 Staff Nurses; 12 Probationers. Applications average 200, and vacancies 8 yearly.

After a personal interview and 1 month's trial applicants are received for 3 years' training, with certificate on satisfactorily completing engagement and passing examination. Candidates should be between 21 and 30 years of age, must be of fair education, and must produce satisfactory evidence of moral character, good health, unimpaired faculties, and general fitness of disposition and temperament for the duties of a sick-nurse. They must sign an agreement by which they undertake to remain 1 year in the service of the Guardians as probationers, and 2 further years as staff nurses, should they pass a satisfactory examination and the Board require their services. Those leaving at the end of 1 year receive a testimonial from the Board if their work and conduct have been approved. LECTURES on anatomy, physiology and nursing are given by the medical officers and the matron. RECREATION, from 2¼ to 4 hours daily; half-day and extra leave occasionally during summer months from 8 to 10 P.M.; 2 weeks' holiday in a year. Leave of absence is granted by the matron upon a uniform plan, announced by her each week, hence the times off duty for each nurse varies from day to day. PREMIUM, nil. SALARY, 1st year, £3 10s.; 2nd year, £18, with an allowance of £3 10s. in lieu of beer; 3rd year, £20, with similar allowance. Indoor uniform and laundry provided. On completion of 3 years' service certificated nurses are eligible as charge nurses at other Poor Law infirmaries, or at the hospitals of the Metropolitan Asylums Board.

Paying Pupils.—Ladies are also admitted for periods of 6 months on payment of a fee, and receive practical instruction in nursing. They are usually students of the National Health Society.

The Nurse Training School was established in 1887, when Miss Mollet was matron of the infirmary, and has become so popular that since the year 1890 it has not been necessary to advertise for probationers.

City of London Union Infirmary, Bow Road, E. Beds, 645. MATRON, Miss Elizabeth Steuart.

Training School being formed.

Fulham Union Infirmary, St. Dunstan's Road, Hammersmith, W. Beds, 500. MATRON, Miss M. E. Shipley.

Training School being formed. See also page 271.

Great Northern Central Hospital, Holloway Road, N. Beds, 155. (About 50 beds unoccupied for want of funds). MATRON, Miss Mary Hull; 1 Assistant-Matron; 1 Night Superintendent; 4 Sisters; 1 Out-patient Sister; 9 Nurses; 14 Probationers. Applications average 400, and vacancies, 12 yearly.

After a personal interview, and 2 months' trial, candidates are received for 3 years' training. Candidates should be between 23 and 35 years of age, must be of fair education, sound health, and good character. LECTURES are given by the visiting staff on elementary anatomy and physiology, medical and surgical nursing, and instruction in the wards is afforded by the sisters on practical nursing, classes being held by the assistant-matron to amplify the instruction thus given. Certificates are granted to nurses after passing examinations at the end of the period of training. RECREATION, 2 hours daily; 1 day monthly; 2 weeks' holiday, 1st year; 3 weeks, 2nd year; after that, 4 weeks' holiday each year. PREMIUM, £10. SALARY, 1st year, nil; 2nd, £15; 3rd, £20. Laundry and indoor uniform (after the 2 months' trial) are provided. The hospital dresses and caps are intended for wear in the wards, not for out of doors. The advantages of a busy general hospital are afforded by this institution, and the authorities consider individually the claims of nurses incapacitated by sickness or old age, after faithful service.

Guy's Hospital, St. Thomas Street, S.E. Beds, 695. MATRON, Miss Florence Nott-Bower; 1 Assistant Matron; 1 Night Superintendent; 20 Sisters; 46 Staff Nurses,; 21 Lady Pupils; 63 Probationers. Applications average 3000, and vacancies 70 yearly for the post of Lady Pupil and Probationer.

Lady Pupils.—Candidates should be between 24 and 32 years of age. After a personal interview, which may be arranged with the matron on any afternoon between 2 and 4 P.M. (Saturdays excepted), applicants are received for a course of 12 months' training in medical and surgical nursing. This term may, however, be extended, should the pupil desire it, at the discretion of the matron, but from the commencement of her training, each lady pupil must distinctly understand that should the interests of the hospital require it, the matron may, with the approval of the treasurer and medical superintendent, terminate a pupil's engagement at the end of the current quarter. LECTURES.—In addition to nursing lectures given in the months of September, October, and November, and the practical instruction received in the wards, lectures are given weekly by Mr. Targett, M.S., during the months of June, July and August, upon elementary anatomy and the nursing of surgical cases; by Dr. Bryant during the months of March, April and May, upon elementary physiology and the nursing of medical cases; and during the winter months lady pupils are taught the elements of pharmacy and dispensing, by Mr. Collier, head dispenser. After each course of instruction, lady pupils are required to present themselves for examination. Certificates are granted after not less than one year's consecutive training. RECREATION, daily from 2.30 to 5, or from 7 to 8.30 P.M.; monthly from 4 P.M. on Saturday to 10 A.M. the following Monday; three weeks' leave after 6 months' training. PREMIUM, £13 13s., each quarter payable in advance. Each lady pupil must provide, at her own expense, a perfectly plain black alpaca dress, 3 washing dresses, and a sufficient supply of white linen aprons; and pay £3 on arrival at the hospital for the caps, collars, and outdoor uniform which will be provided for her. Lady pupils pay for their own washing. The nursing home, in which lady pupils are lodged, forms part of the matron's house; here each is provided with a separate bedroom, or, if called upon, shares a room with another. The beds are separated by a curtain, and there is a common sitting-room comfortably furnished. Lady pupils are required to attend morning and evening prayers in the chapel; to be on duty in the wards by 8 A.M., and to be in bed by 10.45 P.M. They are exempt from menial work but are expected to aid in dusting the wards.

Probationers.—Candidates should be between 23 and 32 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health, and physique. After a personal interview (at the matron's office on Tuesday or Friday mornings between 10 and 12 o'clock), and 1 month's trial, applicants are received for a course of three years' training in medical and surgical nursing. During the first year, probationers are required to attend the lectures given upon nursing, and upon medicine, and surgery as applied to nursing (see page 39), and must submit to examinations in each subject; probationers who fail to pass must go through the course again and be re-examined. Certificates are granted after satisfactorily completing engagement. RECREATION, 2½ hours, alternate days; 7½ hours, if on day duty; 1 night and day, if on night duty, every month; 2 weeks' holiday, 1st year; 3 weeks, 2nd year; and 4 weeks at the end of the 3rd year. SALARY, 1st year, £8; 2nd year, £12; and 3rd year, £18. Probationers whose work or conduct is unsatisfactory, or who fail to pass the examinations, may be required to serve for the whole or part of the 2nd 2 years' training at a salary of £8 per annum. No remuneration is given for the trial month.

Holborn Union Infirmary, Archway Road, N. Beds, 625. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss G. A. Wyld; ASSISTANT LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss M. J. Jones; 15 Charge Nurses; 15 Nurses; 30 Probationers.

After a personal interview, applicants are received for 3 years' training, with a certificate after examination and satisfactory completion of engagement. Candidates should be between 21 and 35 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. LECTURES are given by the medical superintendent, and class instruction by the matron. After 1 year's service, probationers are promoted, if efficient, to the rank of staff nurse. SALARY.—1st year, £15; 2nd year, £20, rising £1 yearly to a maximum of £25 per annum. Laundry and indoor uniform provided.

Hospital for Consumption, Brompton, S.W. Beds, 321. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Charlotte Davidson; 1 Home Sister; 9 Sisters; 2 Night Superintendents; 40 Nurses; 17 Probationers; 30 Nurses on Private Nursing Staff. Applications average 190, and vacancies 17 yearly.

After a personal interview and 1 month's trial, nurses are received for 3 years' training, with a certificate on satisfactory completion of engagement and passing examination. Candidates must be between 23 and 30 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. LECTURES are given by 1st year resident medical officer and by the lady superintendent upon anatomy and physiology and nursing. Massage lessons and lectures on sick-room cookery are also given. A year's training (generally the 2nd year) in a general hospital or a workhouse infirmary nurse training school is also given. RECREATION, 2½ to 3½ hours daily; Probationers and Staff nurses, 5 to 8 hours fortnightly; Sisters, 8 hours weekly; 1 day monthly (7 A.M. to 10 or 12 P.M.); 3 weeks' holiday in a year for nurses; sisters, 4 to 5. PREMIUM, nil. SALARIES.—1st year, £10; 2nd year, £12; 3rd year, £24, rising £2 per annum to £30; Sisters, £30, rising £2 per annum to £40. Laundry, and indoor and outdoor uniform are provided.

The hospital is affiliated with the Royal National Pension Fund for Nurses. In sickness the nurses are nursed in the hospital and home and are sent, if necessary, to convalescent homes at the expense of the hospital.

There is a Private Nursing Staff quite distinct from the hospital staff which is lodged and boarded in a separate home.

King's College Hospital, Portugal Street, Lincoln's Inn, W.C. Beds, 217. SISTER MATRON, Miss Monk (Sister Katherine); 1 Home Sister; 1 Night Sister; 8 Ward Sisters; 68 Staff Nurses, Special Probationers, and Probationer Nurses.

Candidates for probationer nurses must be between 25 and 30 years of age, and produce evidence as to character, education, health, and physique. After a personal interview and months' trial, applicants are received for 3 years' training. LECTURES are given from November to June each year on anatomy, physiology, medical, obstetric, and surgical nursing by members of the medical staff on Fridays, and classes are held by the home sister in connection with this instruction. Examinations are held during the 1st and 2nd year's training. The certificates given are of varying grades, so as to embrace those practical nurses who show to greater advantage in the wards than on examination papers. RECREATION, 4 hours daily; probationers, 1 day monthly; staff nurses (day duty), Saturday, 4.30 P.M. to Monday, 10 A.M., or (night duty) 2 nights monthly; 3 weeks yearly, during 1st and 2nd years; 4 weeks yearly, during 3rd and subsequent years. SALARIES, 1st year, nil; 2nd year, £15; 3rd year, £20; 4th year, £30; 5th year, £33; and 6th year, £36. 2s. a week is allowed for laundry, and in and outdoor uniform are provided. Special Probationers are in all respects treated in the same way as probationer nurses, except that they pay for their training 10 guineas a quarter for the 1st year and 5 guineas a quarter for the 2nd. At the end of the 2nd year, if approved by the committee, a special probationer is appointed unpaid staff nurse.

Lambeth Workhouse Infirmary, Brook Street, Kennington Road, S.E. Beds, 622. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss A. Griffiths; ASSISTANT LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Kerr; 16 Charge Nurses; 11 Nurses; 40 Probationers.

After application to the matron by letter and 2 months' trial, applicants are received for 3 years' training, with a certificate after passing examinations and satisfactorily completing engagement. Candidates should be between 21 and 30 years of age, and must produce a medical certificate of health and satisfactory evidence of character. Class instruction is given by the medical officers and the chief assistant matron; and instruction in the wards by the head nurses. SALARY.—1st year, £10; 2nd year, £14; 3rd year, £18. Laundry and uniform provided.

Lewisham Infirmary, High Street, Lewisham, S E. Beds, 379. MATRON, Miss E. Lofts; ASSISTANT MATRONS, Miss C. Mills and Miss H. Dixon; 6 Sisters; 18 Nurses; 12 Probationers. Three years' course.

London Homœopathic Hospital, Great Ormond Street, Bloomsbury, W.C. Beds, 100. LADY SUPERINTENDENT OF NURSING, Miss Brew; 5 Sisters; 14 Staff Nurses; 17 Probationers; 30 Private Nursing Staff.

After a personal interview and 2 months' trial, applicants are received for 3 years' training, with certificate upon satisfactorily completing engagement and passing examination. Candidates should not be less than 22 years of age, and must produce evidence as to character, education, health, and physique. They receive theoretical and practical instruction from members of the medical staff as well as from the matron and sisters, and will be subject to examination in the instruction received during the 1st and 2nd years. RECREATION, 2 hours every 2nd day; 1 day in the month from 10 A.M. to 10 P.M.; 3 weeks' holiday yearly. They must attend divine service in the hospital on Sunday. PREMIUM, nil. SALARY, 1st year, £8; 2nd year, £12; 3rd year, £18. Laundry and a certain amount of uniform are provided.

A private nursing staff is attached to the hospital, and as vacancies occur, nurses who have completed their training are eligible for appointment upon it. Salaries of the private nurses vary from £27 to £35 per annum, and uniform. (See under NURSING INSTITUTIONS, page 203).

London Hospital (The), Whitechapel Road, E. Beds, 800. MATRON, Miss Eva C. E. Lückes; 3 Assistant Matrons; 2 Night Superintendents; 27 Sisters; 88 Staff Nurses; 120 Regular and Paying Probationers. This makes the total of hospital staff 240. There are 60 nurses on the private staff, making the complete total 300. The number of nurses necessarily varies from time to time in the different capacities in which they serve, according to vacancies, promotions, etc., but the total number in the service of The London Hospital remains about the same. Applications average 2000, and vacancies 140 yearly. Two classes of Probationers are accepted for training—Paying and Regular Probationers.

Paying Probationers, who should be between 22 and 40 years of age are admitted for periods of 3 months on payment in advance of 13 guineas, to cover everything, and an allowance of 2s. 6d. a week is made them for washing. These engagements may be renewed indefinitely upon the same terms according to mutual agreement. No difference is made in work, status, or accommodation between paying and regular probationers, except that the former are not required to take night duty unless they express a wish to do so. By special arrangement, a paying probationer who is within the limit of age (22 to 35 years) may, after a period of training, be transferred to the list of regular probationers. In the case of paying probationers, a personal interview with the matron before engagement, though desirable, is not absolutely indispensable.

Paying probationers attend all lectures and may sit for the examinations, but they do not receive any certificate for less than 2 years' training, and then only if they have done the term of night duty which may be required of them.

Regular Probationers.—After a personal interview (indispensable) and 1 month's trial, applicants are received for 2 years' training with an obligation on their part to remain in the service of the hospital for a third year, either in the wards or upon the private nursing staff. A certificate is granted upon completion of training and passing examination. Candidates should be between 25 and 35 years of age, and must give satisfactory evidence as to health and physique, with two references as to character. LECTURES are given by the visiting staff and matron upon elementary physiology and anatomy, and upon nursing (general details, medical and surgical nursing). Classes are held, and practical instruction is afforded in bandaging and in sick-room cookery. At the conclusion of each course an examiaation is held by an outside examiner, and prizes are awarded upon the results of the competition. RECREATION, 2 hours daily; 12 hours on one day in each month; a week's holiday at the end of each period of 6 months. On completion of 2 years' training a full month's holiday is allowed if the probationer is retained for a third year's service. PREMIUM, nil. SALARY, 1st year, £12; 2nd year, £20. Half-a-crown a week is allowed for laundry. A certain amount of indoor uniform is provided, and material for 3 print dresses and 3 caps.

Recently the matron has initiated, and the House Committee has sanctioned, a scheme for the selected candidates desirous of becoming regular probationers to be received for periods of 6 weeks' preliminary instruction before they are admitted to the wards. Paying probationers will also be received occasionally at the rate of 1 guinea a week, the total sum of 13 guineas for the 3 months' training (half this period being spent at Tredegar House and the remaining half at the hospital) being payable in advance. A house, named Tredegar House, situated in the Bow Road has been secured and adapted for this purpose, where the pupil probationers reside under the immediate supervision of the sister-in-charge. Instruction, board, and lodging will be provided free of expense to pupil probationers, and an allowance of 2s. 6d. a week made for washing. The house is well furnished, and the arrangements in it have been planned with a view to the comfort of its inmates. Pupil probationers will receive instruction in, and will be required to perform, such household duties as will fall to their lot when admitted to the wards. These include sweeping and dusting, but not the cleaning of grates or scrubbing. They are expected to become proficient in sick-room cookery, in the art of bandaging, and in such details of practical nursing as can be taught before actual attendance upon the sick. They attend classes upon elementary physiology, anatomy, and hygiene, and are urged to make the most of their opportunities, and to take pains to fit themselves for the duties in the wards which they are shortly about to undertake. A pupil probationer who is not retained in the preliminary training home, or who is not appointed after her month's trial in the hospital, is required to pay 10s. for the uniform material provided by the hospital.

There is a private staff in connection with the hospital, for particulars of which see under NURSING INSTITUTIONS (page 203).

The London Hospital is the largest general hospital in the kingdom, and its nursing staff numbers over 250. Each member of it is provided with a separate bedroom; the nursing home which is of modern construction, and in course of enlargement, is furnished with good bath-rooms, and the domestic arrangements are comfortable.

London Temperance Hospital, Hampstead Road, N.W. Beds, 120. MATRON, Miss Sara Ellen Orme; 4 Sisters; 12 Nurses; 9 Probationers; 12 Paying Probationers.

After a personal interview and 1 month's trial, applicants are received for 3 or for 1 year's training. Candidates should be between 23 and 30 years of age, and must produce evidence as to character, education, and health. Whilst in the hospital, they must abstain from taking alcohol. LECTURES are given by the visiting staff on anatomy, physiology, and hygiene; and by the matron on nursing. RECREATION, 2 hours daily; 1 day off duty each month; and 3 weeks' holiday in the year. Three years' probationers obtain certificate on satisfactorily completing engagement and passing examination. PREMIUM, £30. SALARY, 1st year, nil; 2nd year, if appointed on the staff, £15; 3rd year, £20. Uniform is not provided. One shilling and sixpence a week is allowed towards laundry expenses. One year's probationers pay a PREMIUM of 1 guinea a week, payment being made quarterly in advance. Uniform is not provided, but the same allowance is given for washing as the ordinary probationers receive. On satisfactorily completing their engagement, they obtain a "nurse probationer's" certificate. Probationers on completion of second year's training and qualifying in marks receive a bronze medal and clasp; on completion of third year's training and qualifying in marks, a silver medal and clasp with their nurse's certificate. A gold medal with clasp is offered for competition amongst nurses who have completed 3 years' training in the hospital. Lessons in dispensing are given to nurses in their third year if desired.

The Nurse Training School was founded in 1879.

Middlesex Hospital, Mortimer Street, W. Beds, 321. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Thorold; 1 Night Superintendent; 10 Sisters; 68 to 72 Nurses (including 15 to 18 Probationers); 17 to 20 Lady Probationers.

Ordinary Probationers.—Candidates should be between 23 and 27 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character and health. After a personal interview, applicants for probationerships are received, as vacancies occur, for a course of 3 years' training. LECTURES are given by Dr. Sidney Coupland, Mr. Pearce Gould, and Mr. Fardon, members of the visiting and resident medical staff. No examinations are held, but after 3 years' satisfactory service, nurses are entitled to a certificate. RECREATION, 2 hours daily; one day, alternate months; 16 days' holiday in a year. PREMIUM, nil. SALARY, 1st year, £12; 2nd year as full staff nurses, £18; 3rd year, £20; 4th year, £22; 5th and succeeding years, £24 per annum. Laundry is provided. Caps and aprons are also provided from the beginning of the training, and complete indoor uniform after the first year's probation.

Lady Probationers should be between 25 and 30 years of age. They are received for periods of not less than 6 months' training, but no certificate is granted to them under 1 year's instruction. They attend the LECTURES given to ordinary probationers: are exempt from any menial work, and are off duty every day from 3 to 6 P.M. PREMIUM. £1 1s. per week. They must provide their own uniform and laundry expenses.

Prior to the year 1867, the Middlesex Hospital had always been served by duly qualified nurses, who obtained their training at various schools. In that year, shortly after Miss Martyr was appointed lady superintendent of the hospital, a scheme was mooted for the establishment of a nursing home, which was warmly approved by the governors, and a site was obtained in Cleveland Street, adjacent to the hospital. Plans were prepared by Mr. T. H. Wyatt, the architect, and the building known as the Nurses' Home was opened by H.R.H. The Princess Mary Adelaide of Teck, on May 13th, 1869. Shortly after the opening of the Home, a code of regulations for the training of nurses and lady probationers was drawn up. In March, 1870, Miss Martyr resigned from ill health, and she was succeeded by Miss Thorold, the present lady superintendent.

After 5 years' service (or in some cases after 3 years), nurses considered eligible may join the Trained Nurses' Institute, receiving a higher rate of wages, and a commission on their earnings. For further particulars see under NURSING INSTITUTIONS (page 204).

Mile End Infimary, Bancroft Road, N.E. Beds, 469. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Jessie Parsons; 1 Night Superintendent; 8 Head Nurses; 15 Nurses; 18 Probationers.

Applicants are received for 3 years' training, with a certificate after passing examination and satisfactorily completing engagement. Candidates must be over 21 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. LECTURES are given by the medical superintendent upon anatomy, medicine and surgery; and classes are held by the superintendent of nurses, who also gives instruction in bandaging and dressing. RECREATION, 1½ hour daily; 1 half-day and 1 evening weekly; every 3rd Sunday; 1 day monthly; 2 weeks' holiday yearly. PREMIUM, nil. SALARY.—Probationers, 1st year, £12; 2nd year, £16; 3rd year, £20; Nurses, £20 to £26 a year; Head nurses, £26 to £32. Laundry and indoor uniform are provided. Probationers may be promoted to the position of nurse after receiving their certificate.

National Hospital for the Paralysed and Epileptic, Queen Square, Bloomsbury, W.C. Beds, 180. MATRON, Miss Tweed; 1 Night Sister; 10 Charge Nurses; 30 Probationer Nurses.

After a personal interview and 1 month's trial, applicants are received for 2 years' training, with a certificate on satisfactory completion of engagement. Candidates must be between 24 and 35 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. INSTRUCTION is given by the sisters and medical officers. RECREATION.—Probationers, 2 hours daily; half-day fortnightly; whole Sunday every 3 weeks; Assistant nurses, 2 hours daily; 1 evening (6 to 9.30 P.M.) and 1 half-day (2 to 9.30 P.M.) fortnightly; whole Sunday every 3 weeks; Night nurses, 9.30 A.M. to 12.30 P.M., five days of week; 4.30 to 8.30 P.M. remainder of week; 1 night monthly; Charge nurses, 2 evenings (5.30 to 10 P.M.) and 1 morning (9.30 to 11.45 A.M.) weekly; 1 half-day (2 to 10 P.M.) and 1 afternoon (2 to 5.30 P.M.) fortnightly; 1 whole Sunday every 3 weeks. A gold medal is given annually to the probationer who passes the best examination, and the sisters are appointed as vacancies arise from amongst the probationers who have completed their training. The hospital was nursed by the British Nursing Association until June, 1894. Since that time the nursing has been managed by the committee of the hospital. The private nursing staff, which was attached to the hospital, no longer exists.

St. Bartholomew's Hospital, East Smithfield, E.C. Beds, 744, MATRON, Miss Isla Stewart; ASSISTANT MATRON, Miss F. C. Smith; 28 Sisters; 3 Night Superintendents; 178 Staff Nurses and Probationers; 27 Special Probationers.

Ordinary Probationers.—After a personal interview and a preliminary trial, applicants are received for 4 years' training. Candidates must be between 23 and 35 years of age. They have to pass a preliminary examination in which, besides satisfying the examiners that they possess general intelligence and have received a fair education, they must have an elementary knowledge of (1) the names of the bones of the skeleton; (2) the structure and mechanism of the following joints:—shoulder, elbow, wrist, hip, knee, ankle; (3) the general situation of the viscera of the thorax, abdomen, and pelvis; (4) the course of the circulation of the blood; (5) the names of the various parts of the alimentary canal; (6) the principal parts of the nervous system; (7) the composition of the air; (8) the structure and general use of thermometers; (9) the signs and terms commonly used in prescriptions. They have also to pass a medical examination. The agreement entered into by a probationer is for 4 years, during 3 of which she is being trained. During the fourth year she serves as staff nurse. At the end of the first year's training probationers are required to pass an examination "in such matters as they have had an opportunity of becoming acquainted with since entering the hospital." If this examination is passed satisfactorily, and the candidates prove themselves otherwise efficient, they are employed as "staff probationers" for the rest of the 3 years. At the expiration of this time their knowledge is again tested by examination. During the second and third years they receive regular instruction in medical and surgical nursing from members of the hospital staff. At the end of the third year a certificate of competency is presented to those who, besides giving satisfaction in ward work, have passed both examinations creditably, and they are appointed staff nurses. RECREATION, 2 hours every other day; 1 day monthly; 3 weeks' holiday yearly. PREMIUM, nil. SALARY, 1st year, £8; 2nd year, £12; 3rd year, £20; 4th year, £30; afterwards as staff nurse, £35, 1st year, and £40 per annum subsequently. "A reasonable quantity" of washing and "a certain supply of dresses, caps, and aprons" are provided.

Special probationers are received for not less than 3 months. Their duties in the wards are the same as those of the ordinary probationers. PREMIUM, £13 13s. a quarter. Laundry and uniform have to be provided.

There is a private nursing staff attached to the hospital, for particulars of which see under NURSING INSTITUTIONS (page 210).

St. John's House, 7 and 8 Norfolk Street, Strand, W.C. LADY SUPT., The Sister Superior of St. Peter's Community; about 100 Nurses.

The institution was founded in 1848 with the design of improving the qualifications and raising the character of nurses for the sick in hospitals, private families, and among the poor, by providing for them professional training, moral and religious discipline, under the care of sisters and a chaplain. Candidates should not be under 24 years of age, must be members of the Church of England, and produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique.

They will be required to sign an agreement to serve the institution for 4 years or to forfeit the sum of £6 if they fail to do so. After a personal interview with the sister superior (when possible), and which may be arranged between 10 A.M. and 12 noon, and 1 month's trial or longer, suitable applicants are received as probationers. They are sent to the Metropolitan Hospital for a course of 3 years' training. In the 4th year they may be employed in private nursing. Those desirous of being employed in maternity cases receive midwifery and monthly nursing training in addition to their general hospital instruction. Certificates are granted for each class of nursing after satisfactorily passing examination and completing engagement. Lady pupils are also received for periods of 3, 6, 9, or 12 months, certificates being granted after a full year's training. RECREATION.—This varies according to a nurse's employment; 3 to 4 weeks' holiday in a year, longer leave being given when necessary. PREMIUM for lady pupils, £14 14s. for each period of 3 months. Lady pupils pay for their own washing. FEES CHARGED.—Ordinary cases, £2 2s.; infectious and mental, £2 12s. 6d.; massage, £10 10s. to £3 3s.; special cases, £2 2s. to £3 3s. per week; maternity cases, £15 15s. per month; for a nurse's services during a day or part of a day 10s. 6d. is charged; massage for patients in London may be had at the rate of 7s. per hour or £2 2s. for 6 hours weekly. SALARIES paid to nurses, 1st year (training), nil; 2nd year, £18; 3rd year, £20; 4th year, £23 and 1s. per week when engaged in private nursing; afterwards, £24, rising to £30 per annum and 2s. per week when nursing private cases. Board, lodging, laundry, and medical attendance are provided. In addition, indoor and outdoor uniforms are provided for the nurses who are required to wear it at all times, to give it up to the sister superior on leaving the service of the institution or forfeit the sum of £4. Probationers must bring with them 2 plain washing dresses of uniform material and pattern, white aprons (cotton or linen), boots without heels for wear in the wards. Neither ornaments nor fringes may be worn. Caps are provided. The Council have established a Pension Fund for nurses. After 12 years' service at St. John's House, a nurse declared disabled from ill-health is entitled to a pension of £15 per annum. A nurse having reached the age of 50, and having served the institution for 20 years, is eligible for a pension of £20 per annum and £1 extra for each additional year's service up to a maximum pension of £26. Any nurse, having served the institution efficiently for 10 years, who may wish to retire, will receive a bonus of £10, and £3 for each additional year's service, such bonus to be in lieu of pension. Many nurses also belong to the Royal National Pension Fund.

The present scheme of Nurse Training was sanctioned by the Board of Guardians and the Local Government Board in 1891.

Workhouse Infirmary Nursing Association. Office, 6 Adam Street, Strand, W.C. Hon. Sec., Miss Wilson; Sec., Miss Gill; Office Hours: 2·30 to 5·30; Saturday, 10 to 1. The Association was founded in 1879 under distinguished patronage for the purpose of providing trained women to act as Matrons and Nurses in Workhouse Infirmaries, both in London and the Provinces. The Association provides training for Probationers in various hospitals and infirmaries.

Candidates must be between the ages of 23 and 30 years, and must give satisfactory references in the first instance; a personal interview is essential before admission, and candidates from the country are therefore requested to make an appointment with the secretary. The usual terms of training are 1 or 2 years, during the 1st year of which no salary is given. One or 2 months' trial will be given at the hospital or infirmary at which the probationer is trained. If accepted after trial, indoor uniform will be provided, but during the month or two of trial, the probationer must provide herself with suitable dresses. Probationers will be under the authority of the matron of the hospital or infirmary where they are trained. At the end of the year, or 2 years, they will be supplied for the next 3 years, at least, with situations by the Association, and will be required to take such posts as the committee will offer as day or night nurses in London or the country; to resign such of the posts if required to by the committee, and to consider themselves as members of the Association. Probationers will receive the medal of the Association after completing 1 year of training, and remaining 1 year in their situation with satisfaction to the authorities of the infirmary. PREMIUM, nil. SALARY, 1st year, nil; 2nd year, £20, rising yearly to £25. Uniform, laundry, lodging, and board found. If any nurse leaves the service of the Association during her training, or the 3 years following her training, she must pay £10 to the Association.

City of London Lying-in Hospital, City Road, E.C. Beds, 36. MATRON, Miss Annie Fox; 2 Head Nurses; 25 Pupils (average); 7 Midwives for out-patients.

There are two classes of pupils received for training—pupil midwives and pupil monthly nurses. The length of the course for midwives is 3 months, for monthly nurses 6 weeks. Application should be made to the matron any day, except Wednesday, between 10 A.M. and noon. Candidates should be between 21 and 45 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to moral character and medical certificate of health. LECTURES are given by the medical staff and the matron upon midwifery, and certificates, 1st or 2nd class, according to the proficiency of the nurse, are granted upon completion of training. Pupils see all labours when practicable. During the year 1896 the number of patients delivered in the wards was 493 and in the out-door maternity district 1681. PREMIUM—Pupil midwives pay a fee of £21, payable in advance, for which they receive instruction, board (except tea and sugar, for which they are charged 10s. and 5s. respectively extra) and lodging for 3 months. Pupil nurses pay a fee of £7 7s. payable in advance, for which they receive instruction, board (subject to the same exceptions as the midwives), and lodging for 6 weeks. Pupils requiring beer or extra milk may have them upon extra payment, but no wine, beer or spirits may be brought by pupils into the hospital. All pupils are required to provide their own laundry expenses, must wear washing dresses, uniform caps, turn-down linen collars, and aprons, of which they are required to bring a sufficient supply. Midwifery pupils are, in addition, required to provide themselves with out-door uniform. A deposit of £1 1s., which is included in the fee, must be paid when the applicant enters her name for a vacancy, and may be forfeited should she not proceed with her engagement.

Provided the accommodation can be found for them in the hospital, pupils who have completed the usual period of training are allowed to remain on payment of 14s. per week for their board.

Clapham Maternity Hospital, Jeffreys Road, Clapham, London, S.W. Beds, 36. MATRON, Miss L. M. Wainwright; 12 Nurses and Probationers. HON. SEC., Miss Marion Ritchie, to whom letters of inquiry should be addressed.

Probationers between 24 and 40 years of age are trained for monthly nursing under the supervision of the matron and resident staff. The course is of 3 or 4 months' duration, and the fees to be paid are 11 or 13 guineas, or, in the case of nurses already medically and surgically trained, 2 months' and fees 8 guineas. Laundry is not provided. Uniform must be worn, which probationers are required to provide. WEEKLY LECTURES are given by the visiting physicians on midwifery, and by the matron and house surgeon on monthly nursing. A certificate of training in monthly nursing is given.

At the Battersea District Maternity (St. John's House) training is also given in district monthly nursing, specially suited for village or district nurses. FEES.—£8 8s. for the 3 months' course.

Number of in-patients treated in 1895, 318; out door maternity cases, 276 in the Clapham district and 530 in the Battersea district.

Special instruction for the L.O.S. examination and certificate is to be obtained in the School of Midwifery affiliated to this hospital. Students reside with the medical women, who are in charge of the maternity, at 131 Clapham Road, or at St. John's House, Battersea. TERMS—1 guinea per week for board; hospital capitation fee, £1 1s.; teaching and training fees, 10 guineas—in all, £25 4s. for the 3 months' course. At St. John's House the fees are reduced to £21.

Applications should be made to the Hon. Sec. of the hospital.

Deaconesses Institution and Training Hospital, The Green, Tottenham, N. Beds, 70. Owing to modern ideas of cubic space, fewer beds are allowed in wards. Some bedrooms formerly used for private patients are now appropriated to other uses. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Christian E. Dundas; NURSING SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Fleetwood; 59 Sisters; 12 Nurses; 4 Probationers.

This institute undertakes the nursing of provincial and other "out stations". "The object of this institution is the training of Christian women to serve as deaconesses; that is to say, as working, teaching and nursing sisters, but who shall not be subject to any obligation or vow of celibacy" (Extract from Declaration of Trust). Rule 5. "It is intended that the institution should comprise persons from all ranks of society, and that neither wealth nor poverty shall form any barrier to admission into the Sisterhood. Each sister or probation sister receives her maintenance from the common fund, and if any one has private means (whether great or small) it is left entirely at her own disposal. After the close of the first year of probation the sister receives £4 per year pocket money and her outer clothing; after the setting apart the sister receives £8 and her outer clothing."

Applications average 200, and vacancies 10 or 12 yearly.

Candidates are received as probationary sisters for the first year and by-sisters for another year or longer. Applicants must be not less than 21 or more than 35 years of age, and may not be engaged for marriage. They must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. LECTURES.—2 lectures weekly are given to probationary sisters by the house surgeon and members of the staff, besides clinical teaching by the sisters in the wards, but certificates are not granted. RECREATION, 1½ to 2 hours daily; an occasional day from 10 A.M. to 10 P.M.; 3 weeks' holiday in a year. PREMIUM, nil. SALARY, 1st year, nil; 2nd year, £4; 3rd year, £8 pocket money. Laundry, indoor and outdoor uniform are provided. The sisters are required to nurse either among the poor or in private work. The sisters are sent to private cases after variable periods of training, not, as a rule, during the first year. They are provided for by the institution during sickness and old age.

East End Mothers' Home, 396 Commercial Road, E. Beds, 13. RESIDENT LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss S. E. Blomfield; 3 Nurses; 5 Pupil Midwives; 2 Pupil Monthly Nurses.

The Committee of Management receive a limited number of women to be trained as midwives or monthly nurses in the home. Candidates must not be under 21 years of age, may be single, widows or married, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, and medical certificate of health and physique.

The course of training for pupil midwives is 3 months, for pupil monthly nurses 6 weeks. PREMIUM.—The fee (payable in advance) for the midwifery course is £15 15s., in return for which pupils receive instruction, board and lodging (exclusive of beer or wine), for 3 months. During 1896 the in-patients attended numbered 233, and the out-patients 274. Parchment certificates are granted after satisfactorily completing engagement and passing examination, but such certificates do not entitle midwives to undertake the medical treatment of cases, nor the management of complications in labour. LECTURES, etc.—Pupil midwives are specially prepared by the medical staff and lady superintendent for the examination of the L.O.S. The examination fee must be paid by the pupil.

Pupils must provide themselves with washing dresses, caps and aprons, and pay for their own washing.

East London Hospital for Children, Glamis Road, Shadwell, E. Beds, 102. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss A. Row; 5 Sisters; 1 Home Sister; 22 Nurses; 5 Lady Probationers. Applications average 590 and vacancies 15 yearly.

After a personal interview and 1 month's trial applicants are received for 3 years' training, with a certificate after satisfactorily completing engagement. Candidates must be between 20 and 26 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. LECTURES are given by resident medical officer and lady superintendent upon anatomy, physiology and nursing of children. RECREATION, 3 hours daily; night and day monthly; 4 weeks' holiday in a year. PREMIUM, nil. SALARIES, 1st year, £10; 2nd year, £12; 3rd year, £20. Laundry and indoor uniform are provided.

Evelina Hospital for Sick Children, Southwark Bridge Road, S.E. Beds, 66. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Alice Cross; 1 Sister; 25 Nurses (including 20 ordinary and 5 special Probationers). Applications average 700 to 800 yearly.

Candidates should be between 21 and 30 years of age; they must produce satisfactory evidence as to character and education; proof that they have been vaccinated since attaining the age of 15, and pass a medical examination by a member of the resident medical staff. After a personal interview and 1 month's trial, applicants are received for a course of 2 years' training as ordinary probationers. Ladies between 21 and 30 years of age are received as paying probationers for 1 year, and they may, subject to the approval of the lady superintendent, continue their training without further payment for the second year, in order to gain the certificate, which is not granted to them otherwise. LECTURES are given by the medical staff, and certificates are granted to all probationers after completing satisfactorily the 2 years' engagement. RECREATION, 2½ hours' daily; 1 day every month; ordinary probationers, 4 weeks', and paying probationers, 6 weeks' holiday in the year. PREMIUM for paying probationers, £13 13s., payable in advance, the first quarter; £1 1s. per week, payable 4 weeks in advance afterwards. Paying probationers must pay their own laundry expenses, but in the second year, in addition to board and lodging, the washing of uniform is provided. SALARIES paid to ordinary probationers and nurses, 1st year, £10; 2nd year, £12; 3rd year, £25, rising £2 each year for the next 3 years. Laundry is provided. For the month of trial all probationers must furnish themselves with 3 pink cotton dresses, 6 linen aprons (uniform pattern), 12 linen collars, and 12 pairs of cuffs. Indoor uniform is afterwards provided by the hospital.

General Lying-in Hospital, York Road, Lambeth, S.E. Beds, 24. MATRON, Miss Atkinson; 1 Resident Midwife; 6 Pupil Midwives; 14 Pupil Nurses. In-patients attended in 1896, 508; Out-patients, 1833. Applications average 209; and vacancies, 102 annually.

Pupils are received for training as midwives and as nurses. In either case a personal application must be made to the matron on any week-day between the hours of 11 A.M. and 1 P.M., and a satisfactory reference will in all cases be required. Preference is given to trained medical or surgical nurses. Print dresses, aprons, and special caps must be provided by the applicant and worn when on duty.

Pupil Midwives enter for a 3 months' course, and pay a fee of 25 guineas, which includes board, lodging, and instruction, but not washing. A deposit of £1 must be paid by every pupil when her name is placed upon the register of pupils. The thermometer required for her clinical work must be procured from the secretary, and when broken must be replaced from the same store. The cost of the thermometers thus broken and used will be deducted from the deposit, and the balance returned on leaving. The deposit will be forfeited if the pupil does not enter within seven days of the time specified on the paper received by her from the matron. The practical course of training for a midwife is thus divided: (a) Nursing in the lying-in wards under the superintendence of the matron; (b) Conducting labours in the delivery rooms under the supervision of the resident midwife; (c) Attending labour cases in the patient's own home under the supervision of the midwife attached to the out-patient department in the neighbourhood of the hospital. During attendance upon external cases the pupil midwives sleep in the house of the midwife, but take their meals, and receive instruction in the hospital. LECTURES are given by the physicians and the house-physician, and oral instruction by the matron and resident midwife. Pupil midwives receive a certificate upon satisfactorily completing their engagement. They are encouraged to present themselves for the examination of the Obstetrical Society of London, the course of instruction being specially adapted to that end.

Pupil Nurses are received into the hospital for 2 months' training, paying a fee of 10 guineas, including board, lodging, and instruction, but not washing. They are subject to the same regulations as to deposit, forfeit, and provision of the thermometers as the pupil midwives. The course of training for a nurse comprises: (a) Assisting at labour cases in the delivery rooms under the supervision of the resident midwife; (b) Nursing in the lying-in wards under the superintendence of the matron. Lectures are given to the nurses by the matron, and a certificate is awarded upon the satisfactory completion of their engagement.

Certificated midwives and nurses can be entered upon a register for recommendation to ladies upon payment of a fee of 5 shillings.

Grosvenor Hospital for Women and Children, Vincent Square, Westminster, S.W. Beds, 18. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Katherine Hughes; 3 Charge Nurses; 1 Probationer. Applications average 60 yearly, and there is one vacancy every other year.

After personal interview and 1 month's trial, applicants are received for 2 years' training, with certificate upon satisfactorily completing engagement. Candidates should be between 24 and 25 years of age, and must produce evidence as to character, education, health, and physique. RECREATION, 3 hours three times a week; one day monthly, after first year; 4 weeks' holiday every year. PREMIUM, nil. SALARY, 1st year, £12; 2nd year, £14. Laundry and indoor uniform are provided. Out-door uniform is not provided.

A large amount of operative work is done at the hospital, and the nurses have opportunities of seeing and attending upon numerous ovariotomies. A new hospital is being built, and when the building is completed, the practice of the institution will probably be much increased.

Hospital for Sick Children, The, Gt. Ormond Street, W.C. Beds, 182. MATRON, Miss Gertrude Payne; 1 Night Superintendent; 1 Home Sister; 11 Sisters; 13 Staff Nurses; 40 Probationers and Lady Pupils; 8 to 10 Private Nursing Staff. Applications average about 4000 yearly.

Ordinary Probationers.—Candidates must be between 21 and 30 years of age, and must produce evidence as to character, education, health, and physique. After a personal interview and 1 month's trial (which may be extended at the discretion of the matron to 2 months), applicants are received for 3 years' training, with certificate on satisfactorily completing engagement and passing examinations. LECTURES are given by members of the medical staff, and instruction is also given by the matron, home sister, and ward sisters in practical nursing, cookery, and massage. Examinations are held in June each year for the junior probationers, and every October there is an examination for nurses in their third year. Nurses who fail to obtain 35 per cent. of the available marks are considered to have failed, and are only allowed to present themselves for further examination by special permission. RECREATION,

2 hours daily; 1 half day and 1 whole day monthly; 3 weeks' holiday yearly. SALARY.—Ordinary probationers, £8, 1st year; £12, 2nd year; and £18 the 3rd year, with 1s. 8d. a week for washing; Staff nurses, £25, 1st year; £26 2nd year; and £27 3rd year, and subsequent year's service with same allowance for washing; Sisters, £35 per annum, and 2s. 3d. a week for washing. Probationers are provided with indoor uniform, 3 washing dresses, 6 linen aprons, 3 caps, and 6 collars; and indoor uniform is provided for all the regular staff.

Paying Probationers.—A certain number of paying probationers are admitted between the ages of 21 and 35, in the first instance for a term of 3 months, signing an agreement to abide by the rules of the hospital. If recommended by the matron, a paying probationer may be subsequently reappointed for a further term of 9 months; at the end of the 12 months, if satisfactory, she receives a certificate from the matron to the effect that she has had 1 year's training in the nursing of sick children, but in no case is a certificate implying that she is a trained nurse given to a nurse who has not completed the full 3 years' curriculum. A paying probationer wishing to complete her training may, on the recommendation of the matron, at the end of the 12 months be transferred to the regular staff, ranking and receiving pay as a probationer in her second year. No difference is made with regard to the details of training and ward work between ordinary and paying probationers. The FEE for paying probationers is 1 guinea a week, payable in advance by quarterly instalments. Paying probationers have to pay for their uniform and washing.

There is a Private Nursing Staff attached to the hospital. FEES CHARGED for nurses' services, ordinary cases, £2 2s., 1st week; £1 1s. a week afterwards; infectious cases, £1 10s. a week. SALARY for nurses on private staff, uniform and £25 per annum, with 10, 15, 20, and 25 per cent. on earnings for 2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th years respectively. Nurses must have had at least 3 years' training.

Lady Pupils are also received for not less than 3 months' training.

LECTURES are given by the medical staff, and instruction in nursing by the matron. Examinations are held every 3 months. PREMIUM, £13 13s. a quarter, or £42 for a year's course. SALARY, nil. Laundry provided.

Maternity Charity and District Nurses Home,

Howard's Road, Plaistow, E. MATRON, Miss Katherine Twining; 8 Superintendent Nurses; 55 Nurses and Probationers. The objects of the Institution are: (1) To specially instruct women for nursing work in villages and cottages; (2) To prepare pupils for the L.O. Society examination in midwifery; (3) To provide nursing in their own homes for the inhabitants of the district of South West Ham, composed chiefly of artisans and dock labourers. Applications average 250, and vacancies 100 yearly.

Candidates should be between 25 and 50 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health, and physique. No preference is given to trained nurses. After a personal interview and 1 month's trial for long-time nurses, applicants are received for a course of 3, 6, 9, or 12 months' or 2 years' training in midwifery or monthly and district nursing. LECTURES are given by the superintendents upon nursing subjects and hygiene; practical instruction in massage, bandaging, and nursing details by the superintendent nurses, who are fully trained and certificated, and certificates are given after passing examination and satisfactorily completing enagement. Probationers are prepared for the L.O.S. examinations. RECREATION, 1 day or from Saturday to Monday, monthly; superintendent nurses, 4 to 6 weeks' holiday in a year. TERMS.—Midwifery pupils, 3 months, 15 guineas; 6 months, £25: district pupils, 3 months, 13 guineas; 6 months, £20: midwifery and district pupils, 6 months, £20; 1 year (country women only), £35; one year (lady pupils), £40; "cottage" nurses (monthly nursing not midwifery), £12; monthly and district nursing (1 year), £15; district and monthly nursing (2 years), £2 entrance fee for month of probation. Two-year pupils are liable to be sent out during their second year for a period not exceeding 6 months. They receive no salary for the 1st year, and £12 for the 2nd. Laundry expenses in all cases are extra. All fees and laundry payments to be paid in advance, or at the time of entering, to the secretary. Fees for booking midwifery vacancy, £1 1s. Term commences for the 3 months' midwifery course early in January, April, July, and October. It is strongly recommended that nurses for general work should be sent for 1 year's training, and where that is impossible, for 6 months. Outdoor uniform is provided.

The area of the Charity's operations is an extended one, there being no large general hospital in the neighbourhood. The work is entirely external among the poor. The Home was opened in 1888 with 1 nurse. The nursing is performed gratuitously, and the cases are very varied in character.

Metropolitan Asylums Board. Offices — Norfolk House, Norfolk Street, Strand, W.C. The following regulations and conditions of service are in force at all hospitals under the control of the Board :—

Charge Nurses.—Applicants for engagement as charge nurses must be at least 25 years of age; must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, health, and physique, and must hold certificates of not less than 3 years' training from either a general hospital to which a recognised school of nursing is attached, or from a Poor Law Infirmary in which systematic instruction is given and tested by independent examiners.

Assistant Nurses, Class I.—Applicants must be at least 23 years of age; must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, health, and physique, and evidence that they have during a period of 1 year been engaged in nursing at such general hospital, or Poor Law Infirmary as above mentioned.

Assistant Nurses, Class II.—Applicants must be at least 22 years of age; must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, fair education, health, and physique, but are not required to hold certificates of previous training.

After a personal interview with the medical superintendent or matron, nurses are appointed by the Committees of Management of the hospitals. Recreation, 12 hours weekly; 1 day monthly; evening passes may be granted when convenient, and are not counted in the 12 hours' leave, from 8.30 to 10 p.m.; charge nurses, 4 weeks' holiday; assistant nurses, 3 weeks' holiday in a year. All nurses are required to take a bath and change their uniform and stockings before going out of the hospitals. Nurses are subject to the authority of the matron and medical superintendents. Assistant nurses must obey the charge nurses under whom they work and from whom they receive instruction in practical ward work, and the nursing of infectious diseases. Lectures are given in some of the hospitals by the medical superintendents or matrons. Testimonials are granted to all nurses after satisfactorily completing engagements of 6 months or longer. Assistant nurses, Class II. are eligible for promotion to Class I., but before they can be made charge nurses, they must obtain the 1 year's hospital experience required of assistant nurses, Class I., in addition to 2 years' service of the Board in fever nursing. Promotion and increase of salary in all cases depend upon the report of the medical superintendent and matrons concerned. SALARIES paid to charge nurses, £36, rising £1 annually to £40 per annum; assistant nurses, Class I., £24, rising £1 annually to £28 per annum; Class II., £20, rising £1 annually to £24 per annum.

Queen Charlotte's Lying-in Hospital, Marylebone Road, N.W. Beds, 55. MATRON, Miss M. F. McCord; 4 Sisters; 2 Sister-Midwives; 4 Staff Nurses; about 36 Pupils.

The training is of two kinds, midwifery and monthly nursing. Pupil Midwives.—Candidates should be between 23 and 40 years of age, must produce satisfactory evidence as to character and education, besides medical certificates of health and recent vaccination. After a personal interview with the matron, suitable applicants are accepted by the committee and received on a first Monday in the month, as vacancies occur for a course of 3 months' training, part of which is given within the hospital, and part in the outdoor department. Theoretical and practical instruction is given by the medical officers, the matron, sister midwives, and the superintendent of the out-patient department; and midwifery certificates are granted upon satisfactorily passing examination. At the discretion of the examining physicians, pupils who fail are allowed to present themselves for re-examination on a subsequent occasion, but a special fee will be charged for the additional training, according to the circumstances of the case.

Pupil Nurses.—Candidates must comply with the regulations given above, and when accepted they are received on Mondays, as vacancies occur, for a term of 12 weeks' training in the wards of the hospital. They serve in the wards and receive instruction from the matron and sisters; monthly nursing certificates are granted on satisfactorily completing engagement, provided the nurse be considered competent.

Certificated nurses are entitled to have their names placed (free of charge) on the Hospital Register of Nurses, but for subsequent misconduct the name of any nurse may be removed by the committee.

FEES.—A registration fee of £1 1s. must be paid upon application by both classes of pupils; the amount will be deducted from the course fee on entry, or returned if the application be refused, but an accepted candidate who fails to fulfil her engagement forfeits the registration fee. Pupil midwives, £26 5s., payable to the secretary in advance for board, lodging, and instruction for 3 months; pupil nurses, £15 15s. for the 12 weeks. Pupils of both classes provide their own uniform and pay for their own washing.

FEES CHARGED.—Ordinary Cases, £2 2s. per week; Infectious and Mental, £2 12s. 6d. per week; Maternity, £10 to £21 per month. Persons in straitened circumstances can be supplied with a nurse at reduced terms, or at a nominal charge of 5s. a week. For further particulars, see "University College Hospital," page 56.

Camberwell and Lambeth District Nursing Association, Burton Road, Brixton, S.W. (affiliated with the Q.V.J.I.N.). LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Bradgate; 3 Queen's Nurses and 2 Queen's Probationers. Applications average 3, and vacancies 3 yearly.

Candidates must comply with the rules of the Queen Victoria Jubilee Nursing Institution (which see). Probationer applicants must have received at least 2 year's training in a general hospital and are employed subject to the usual conditions of the institute in respect to remuneration, etc.

Chelsea and Pimlico District Nursing Association, 22 Tite Street, S.W. (affiliated with the Q.V.J.I.N.). LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss A. J. Franklin; 5 nurses. Applications average 4 and vacancies 4 yearly; 4 Probationers are trained annually in district work for the Q.V.J.I.N.

Candidates should be between 25 and 35 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, health and physique, and must hold in addition a certificate of not less than 2 years' training from a general hospital. RECREATION, 3 hours daily; 1 day and 1 night monthly; 4 weeks' holiday in a year. No charge is made for nurses' services. SALARY from £30 to £50 per annum, together with board, lodging and laundry. Indoor and outdoor uniform is provided.

Church Army Mission - Nurses, 21 Nutford Place, Marble Arch, W. HON. SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Carlile; 110 Nurses.

Applicants, who should be between 25 and 30 years of age, are received for 3 months' training in mission nursing, during 6 weeks of which time the morning hours are spent at one of the large London hospitals, and the St. John Ambulance Association "First Aid" and "Nursing" Certificates have to be taken. The nurses are trained as "working" nurses, and also are instructed in evangelistic and in rescue work. Nurses are sent out at the invitation of parochial clergy; their stay in any one parish may not exceed 2 years. RECREATION, 1 day in seven; 2 weeks' holiday in the year. WAGES, 12s. to 14s. a week, with furnished rooms.

Colonial Nursing Association, Imperial Institute, S.W. HON. SECRETARY, Mrs. Francis T. Piggott.

This Association was formed in July, 1896, to provide trained nurses for private practice in the Crown Colonies and small English communities in foreign countries. Candidates must hold a certificate of not less than 3 years' training at a general hospital, and preference is given to those possessing the L.O.S. certificate. Applicants are engaged for not less than 2 and not more than 3 years. SALARY, £60 per annum (guaranteed by the Association); board and lodging provided by the Local Committee in each colony. Salaries will be paid from the date of the nurse's arrival in the colony, and cease on the date of her departure. Second-class passage out and home paid.

"Each nurse engaged undertakes to refund to the Colonial Nursing Association her passage money out, should she for reasons unapproved by the Local Committee break her engagement, or should the Local Committee find it necessary to terminate her engagement owing to serious misconduct on her part, and she will be required to find 2 persons who will guarantee such repayment."

Deaconesses Institution. See page 102.

District Nursing Branch of the London Bible-women and Nurses' Mission, 2 Adelphi Terrace, Strand, W.C. HON. SUPERINTENDENT, Mrs. Selfe Leonard; 9 Nurse Superintendents; 77 Nurses; 9 Probationers.

The institution was founded in 1857, by Mrs. Ranyard, for the purpose of supplying Biblewomen to some of the poorest neighbourhoods in London. In 1868, a nursing branch was formed to supplement the work. The nurses, whose duties are quite distinct from those of the Biblewomen, reside in their districts, and work closely with the local doctors, hospitals, and dispensaries. They are placed under the care of nurse superintendents of long training and experience, and are provided with a kit containing every nursing requisite. A certain number of applicants are accepted for training after a personal interview and 1 month's trial. They receive at least a year's general training in one of the London hospitals. To this is usually added a monthly nurse certificate obtained in a lying-in hospital, after which they are trained in the details of district nursing. Probationer candidates should be from 25 to 30 years of age. Nurses already trained are also accepted for district work, but the applicants must belong to some evangelical denomination. SALARY.—On completion of training, nurses receive from £40 to £50 per annum, with uniform. They provide their own board and lodging.

East London Nursing Society, 49 Philpot Street, Commercial Road, E. MATRONS: Central Division, Miss Sargent, 49 Philpot Street, Commercial Road, E.; Stepney Green Division, Miss Cairnie, 43 Stepney Green, E.; ASSISTANT MATRON, Miss Bilson; 33 Nurses.

This Association was formed to nurse the sick poor of East London in their own homes by means of trained nurses. Thirty-three districts are now in full operation. Nurses must have had at least 1 year's training in one of the general hospitals in the surgical and medical wards for men and for women, also, if possible, in the children's wards, and in nursing fever cases. SALARY, 15s. to 18s. a week, with lodging and uniform. If a nurse subscribes to any fund or insurance company approved of by the Committee, the Society adds £1 4s. yearly to her subscription. The Royal National Pension Fund is preferred and recommended.

Guy's Hospital Trained Nurses' Institution, 14 St. Thomas Street, S.E. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss S. A. Swift; 87 Nurses. Telegraphic address—"Guy's Institution," London.

Candidates should be between 23 and 32 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. After a personal interview (by appointment on any Tuesday or Thursday morning between 10 A.M. and noon) and 1 month's trial, suitable applicants are required to enter into a $4\frac{1}{2}$ years' engagement with the institution. During the 1st 3 years candidates are trained in medical and surgical nursing in the wards of Guy's Hospital, being for that period subject to the rules and regulations for probationers and to the authority of the hospital matron. After obtaining hospital certificates of 3 years' training (for conditions of gaining which see Guy's Hospital, pages 39 and 40), the nurses are required to enter the institution and serve as private nurses subject to the authority of the lady superintendent for a period of 1½ years, at the end of which time (the engagement being satisfactorily fulfilled) further certificates are granted. Any nurse who fails to complete her engagement will be required to pay the sum of £20 to the trustees of the institution as liquidation damages. A probationer whose work or conduct is unsatisfactory, or who fails to pass her examination, may cease to be a probationer at the discretion of the hospital matron, or may be required to serve for the whole or more than the 2nd year of her training at a salary of £8 per annum. RECREATION.—During the 3 years' training (see Guy's Hospital); afterwards by the rules under which the nurses are sent out 1½ hours for meals and 1 hour for out-door exercise daily; 4 weeks' holiday in a year. FEES CHARGED.—Ordinary cases, £1 11s. 6d.; infectious, £2 2s. to £2 12s. 6d.; mental and massage, £2 2s. per week; maternity cases, £10 10s. per month. SALARIES. — Probationers, 1st year, £8 per annum (reckoned from after expiration of trial month); 2nd year, £12; 3rd year, £18; Nurses from £25 during 4th year and £30 5th year, rising to £40 per annum. In addition to their salaries, nurses receive 10s. 6d. per week when engaged in nursing mental or maternity cases. The whole of the net earnings (with the exception of a small sum yearly reserved for emergencies) of the institution are devoted to the benefit of the nursing staff. The institution is federated to the Royal National Pension Fund (for pensions and bonuses), paying £11 15s. where the nurse pays £7 10s., to enable its nurses to obtain pensions at the age of 50 years. At the end of each year the treasurer of Guy's Hospital takes such a sum as he deems desirable from the profits of the institution and applies it upon an equable sliding scale as the "Bonus Fund," from which all nurses in their 5th year of service receive duly proportioned benefit. The institution was founded by the treasurer and governors of Guy's Hospital in 1885, commencing with 5 nurses. No nurse is sent out to private cases until she has received the full term of 3 years' training in the hospital wards and has obtained a certificate to that effect. Midwifery training is provided by the institution for its nurses within the Lying-in Charity of Guy's Hospital. This charity is nursed from the institution, where a resident midwife is kept for training purposes.

Haggerston and Hoxton District Nursing Association, 80 Nichols Square, Hackney Road, N.E. (affiliated to the Q.V.J.I.N.). LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Agnes Wells; 2 Staff Nurses; 3 Queen's Probationers. Before February, 1890, when the existing organisation was commenced, district nursing was carried on for 1 year in this neighbourhood by a nurse sent daily from the Metropolitan Association, Bloomsbury, W.C.

Candidates should not be under 24 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character and health. They must also have received not less than 1 year's hospital training. Six months' training in district nursing is also required before being appointed to the post of staff nurse. RECREATION, 3 hours daily; 1½ day monthly, or as the superintendent can arrange it; 4 weeks' holiday in a year. No charge is made for nurses' services. SALARY.—Probationers are paid £25; staff nurses, £30 and £35 per annum, with board, lodging, and laundry. Uniform is provided.

Hamilton Association for providing Trained Male Nurses, 57 Park Street, Grosvenor Square, W. Telegraphic address—"Alumnus," London. MANAGER, G. H. Henlen; 28 Nurses.

Candidates for the post of nurse must produce satisfactory evidence of sobriety, good moral character and general respectability of conduct, of having undergone such training as to qualify them in cases of emergency to render "first aid" to the sick under their care, and to carry out such instructions in respect to the treatment and management of patients as they may receive. Candidates must be prepared, if necessary, to undergo such course of training as the committee think necessary. The nurses are graded in three classes. FEES CHARGED.—£2 2s. to £4 4s. weekly. Special terms to hospitals. Massage (in London) 5s. per hour. SALARY.—The nurses receive the wages they earn, less a commission (from 10 to 20 per cent.). There is a Nurses' Sick Fund and a fund for nursing the Sick Poor.

Hampstead Hospital, The, Nursing Institution, Parliament Hill Road, N.W. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Mrs. Ebbetts; 20 Nurses.

Candidates should be between 25 and 35 years of age, and satisfactory evidence must be produced as to character, education, health and physique. They must hold a certificate of not less than 2 years' training in a general hospital, and for maternity nurses a midwifery or monthly nursing certificate is required in addition. After a personal interview and 1 month's trial, applicants enter into an agreement with the institution for years. One month's notice of leaving is required, and a fine is levied for breaking agreement. RECREATION.—By rules under which nurses are sent out, 1 hour daily; 4 weeks' holiday yearly. FEES CHARGED.—Ordinary cases, £2 2s. for 1st week, then £1 11s. 6d.; infectious, £3 3s. 1st week, and £2 2s. afterwards; mental, £2 2s. 1st week, £1 11s. 6d. afterwards. Special arrangements as to massage. Maternity cases, £2 2s. per week. PREMIUM for probationers, £10 10s. SALARIES.—Probationers, 1st year, nil; 2nd year, £6; 3rd year, £20; nurses, £25 per annum, with 5 per cent. commission on earnings after 1st year. Board, lodging, and laundry when not at cases are provided in the home. Indoor and outdoor uniform is provided.

Metropolitan Nursing Association, 23 Bloomsbury Square, W.C. (In connection with the Q.V.J.I.N.) SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Gray; 3 Staff Nurses; 10 Probationers.

This association has for its objects: (1) To nurse the sick poor at their own homes; (2) To maintain a training school for district nurses; (3) To raise the standard of nursing and the social position of nurses. After selection by the superintendent and 1 month's trial, applicants are received for at least 1 year's training in hospital nursing and 6 months' training in district work. They must also enter into an agreement to continue in the work of district nursing for 2 years after the completion of training. On satisfactory completion of training the nurses will either be engaged by the association or recommended for employment as district nurses. RECREATION, 4 weeks' holiday yearly. PREMIUM, £5 for expenses of a month's trial, which is returned on completion of training. SALARY, £25 per annum during district training, and 2s. 6d. per week for laundry; after training, not less than £30 per annum. Nurses who have already completed a course of at least 12 months' hospital training to the satisfaction of the committee are admitted for district training on the same terms as probationers. Federated to Royal National Pension Fund for Nurses.

Middlesex Hospital Trained Nurses' Institute, The, 17 Cleveland Street, W. Telegraphic address—"Skilful," London. SISTER-IN-CHARGE, Miss M. M. Wethered; 20 to 24 Nurses.

Only nurses trained at the Middlesex Hospital are employed in the institute, and they must have had at least 3 and usually 5 years' experience in the hospital before they are sent to private cases. The institute nurses are paid at the rate of £26 per annum with the addition of a percentage, as hereunder stated, of the sums received by the institute from the patients nursed by them, viz.: For the 1st year of service in the institute, 10 per cent.; for the 2nd year, 15 per cent.; for the 3rd and all subsequent years, 20 per cent. They are also provided with in and outdoor uniform, and when at a case have an allowance of 2s. 6d. a week for laundry. In the intervals of their employment they are lodged and boarded at the Trained Nurses' Institute. The nurses are allowed 3 weeks' holiday for every completed year's service in the institute, such holiday being taken at times convenient to the Sister-in-Charge.

The institute is under the management of the Governors of the Middlesex Hospital, and was opened in 1887 with a twofold object, to provide the public with thoroughly well-trained nurses, and from the profits arising therefrom to form a Pension Fund for the nurses of the hospital.

Midwives' Institute, 12 Buckingham Street, Strand, W.C. Courses of instruction in district midwifery are given, which include preparation for the L.O.S. examination. Application should be made to the Secretary. See also page 315.

Paddington and Marylebone District Nursing Association (affiliated to Q.V.J.I.N.), 510 Edgware Road, W. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss K. Perssé; 6 Nurses.

Candidates must have received at least 2 years' hospital training, and must come upon probation for 1 month, during which time they receive no remuneration. RECREATION, 2 hours daily; 4 weeks' holiday yearly. SALARY, £30 to £42 per annum. Board and lodging, 2s. for laundry, and uniform provided. One month's notice of leaving required and given.

Queen Victoria's Jubilee Institute for Nurses. Founded, 1887. PRESIDENT, Rev. A. L. B. Peile, Master of St. Katharine's Royal Hospital, Gloucester Gate, Regent's Park, London, N.W.; SECRETARY, Miss A. Martin Leake; INSPECTOR OF NURSES, Miss Peter, 1 St. Katharine's Royal Hospital, Regent's Park, N.W., to whom nurses requiring information should write. Telegraphic address—"Talented," London.

The primary object of the institute is to train women for the purpose of nursing the sick poor in their own homes. Nurses thus trained and employed are known as the Queen's nurses, and wear a special badge and brassard. This badge and brassard must be returned when the nurse ceases to be thus employed, but her name remains on the roll of Queen's nurses. Gold and silver badges are given at the discretion of the Council. The qualifications for a Queen's nurse are as follows: (a) training at some approved general hospital or infirmary for not less than 1 year; (b) approved training in district nursing for not less than 6 months, including the nursing of mothers and infants after childbirth; (c) nurses in country districts must have had at least 3 months' approved training in midwifery. The training in district nursing requisite for the Queen's nurse may be obtained at one of the approved training homes in the metropolis or provinces. Nurses who, on completion of their hospital curriculum, wish to join the Jubilee Institute should write to Miss Peter at the address given above, who will inform them what branches have vacancies for probationers. SALARY.—The usual salaries range from £30 per annum, with board, laundry and uniform. A certificate is given on completion of the nurse's agreement to the institute. The institute in some cases gives the required hospital and district training.

The following is a list of places in the United Kingdom where Queen's District Nurses are employed. The centres in England and Wales are affiliated to the English branch and those in Scotland and Ireland to the Scotch and Irish branches respectively. Particulars of the two last-named branches will be found on pages 248 and 252.

Bristol Hospital for Sick Children Private Nursing Staff. For particulars see page 130.

Bristol Nurses' Training Institution, 24 Richmond Terrace, Clifton, Bristol. Telegraphic address—"Nurses," Bristol. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Mrs. Nolan; 40 Nurses; 10 Probationers.

Candidates must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique, and submit to be medically examined by the hon. physician of the institution. After a personal interview suitable applicants are sent to one of the following hospitals, being subject during their probationership to the rules and to the matron of the Training School selected: University College Hospital, the General Hospital, Bristol, Burton-on-Trent Infirmary, and the Crumpsall Infirmary, Manchester. Up to December, 1895, the training had been from 1 to 2 years, but since that date arrangements have been made with the schools to train the institution pupils for the full term of 3 years. Nurses desirous of being employed in maternity cases are trained at the Rotunda Hospital, Dublin, and in future some may be sent to Queen Charlotte's Hospital, London. After the period of training, nurses must agree to serve the institution for 5 years. RECREATION.—During training according to the rules of the Schools of Nursing (which see), afterwards 1 or 2 hours off duty for outdoor exercise daily are expected by the rules under which nurses are sent out by the institution; 2 weeks' holiday in a year guaranteed, but as a matter of fact much longer is given. FEES CHARGED.—Ordinary cases, £1 6s.; quarantine fee, £1 1s. for fever cases; small-pox and typhus cases and mental, £2 2s. per week; maternity cases, £7 7s. per month; massage, from 5s. per hour. SALARIES.—All expenses of training are paid by the institution; probationers, however, receive £8 per annum as gratuity, but this sum may be withheld during the 1st year of training at the discretion of the Committee. Nurses, 1st, 2nd and 3rd year, £20; after 3rd year, £25; after 6th year, £30; after 8th year, £35; and after 10th year, £40 per annum. 4 nurses are in receipt of full salary, 13 from £30 to £35, and the rest varying from £20 to £25 per annum. A percentage is allowed to nurses permitted to remain over 3 months in charge of mental case. Board, lodging, laundry (when not at cases) are provided in the home, besides outdoor uniform. Since 1896 the expenses of the longer training have necessitated the withdrawal for the present of the £2 per annum formerly offered to each nurse who joins the Royal National Pension Fund. The grant is, however, continued to those nurses who had joined before this regulation came in force. During sickness, medical attendance and medicine are provided for the nurses.

Bristol Royal Infirmary Nursing Institution. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss M. G. Smith. For particulars see page 65.

Burnley.—Victoria Hospital Private Nursing Staff. For particulars see page 132.

Burton-on-Trent Nursing Institution. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Eleanor Carson; 4 Day District Nurses; 3 Night Nurses; 17 Private Nurses; 7 Probationers.

The nurses employed in this institution enter as probationers, and are sent to various hospitals, in particular to the Royal Infirmary, Edinburgh, for not less than 2 years' training before being allowed to undertake private cases. Applicants must be between 25 and 30 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. They are required to enter into an agreement to serve the institution for a period of not less than 2 years after the completion of their hospital training. Whilst in training they are subject to the rules and regulations of the hospitals in which they work. SALARY.—Nurses receive from £25 to £30 per annum according to experience, and after 1 year's service they become eligible for bonuses. In and outdoor uniform is provided. When not employed upon a case the nurse is provided with a home in the institution and medical attendance, if necessary, free of charge. FEES CHARGED for private nurses.—Ordinary cases, £1 1s.; infectious, £1 11s. 6d. to £2 2s.; mental, £2 2s. per week; maternity, £6 6s. the month.

The institution, which is managed by a Committee, was started in 1885 with 3 district nurses, and in 1887 private nurses were added to the staff. In 1891 night nursing was undertaken.

Cambridge Home for Nurses, 13 Fitzwilliam Street. Telegraphic address—"Trained," Cambridge. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Emily Rogers; 20 to 25 Nurses.

Candidates should be between 25 and 30 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, health and physique. Each applicant must hold a certificate of not less than 2 years' training from a general hospital, and in the case of maternity nurses a midwifery or monthly nursing certificate from a lying-in hospital or the L.O.S. Candidates are appointed by the lady superintendent. The RECREATION of nurses depends upon the requirements of their patient; it is requested that at least 7 hours' consecutive rest and 1 hour for outdoor exercise be allowed daily; 1 month's holiday in a year. FEES CHARGED.—Ordinary medical and surgical cases, £1 11s. 6d.; infectious, £2 2s.; mental, £2 2s. a week; maternity, £8 8s. the month. SALARY paid to nurses, £28 per annum and percentage on earnings after 1 year's service. £5 a year is allowed for uniform. Board and lodging when not at a case are provided.

Canterbury.—Kent and Canterbury Institute for Trained Nurses, 62 Burgate Street. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss C. F. Shaw; 23 Nurses; 2 District Nurses; 10 Probationers.

Candidates for the post of nurse should not be less than 22 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, health and physique, and must hold certificates of 2 years' training from a recognised School of Nursing. Those desirous of being employed in maternity cases must hold midwifery or monthly nursing certificates. Applicants without previous hospital experience are also received. After a personal interview such applicants are sent to some hospital or infirmary for a month's trial, and if approved there receive a course of 2 years' training, being subject during their probationership to the rules and to the matron of the Training School. They are required to sign an agreement to serve the institution for 3 years after the completion of their training. RECREATION.—Not less than 6 hours' consecutive rest and 1 or 2 hours' outdoor exercise daily are required by the rules under which the nurses are sent out; 3 weeks' holiday in a year. Fakenham (Norfolk) Nurses' Home. Telegraphic address—"Nurses," Fakenham. HON. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Sophia Hamond; 72 Nurses.

The Home trains its own nurses. Young women are received as probationers at not less than 18 years of age, and employed in nursing chronic cases until they reach the age of 22. During this period they obtain a salary of £8 per annum with uniform, washing, board, and lodging. They may then, if found suitable, be sent to various hospitals for further training for a period of not less than 2 years, the institution paying all premiums and travelling expenses, and providing them with a salary of £8 per annum. On completion of training the nurses return to the home, and engage in private nursing, receiving salaries beginning at £14 and rising to £35 a year, with board, lodging, washing, and uniform. In good times they also obtain a bonus. Before an applicant can be accepted, she must if possible have a personal interview with the lady superintendent, and come for a month upon trial. She must produce evidence as to character, education, health and physique. If accepted, she has to enter into an engagement to serve the Home for 4 years. RECREATION, 2 weeks' holiday or more every year. The institution makes permanent provision for incapacitated nurses after 12 to 15 years' service, and during sickness provides all that is necessary for any member of the staff. The home was founded in 1871, by the late Mrs. Robert Hamond, starting with 1 nurse for the parish of Fakenham.

Rae; 80 Nurses emyloyed at the Liverpool Royal Infirmary; 20 District Nurses; 55 Private Nurses. Applications average 900, and vacancies 30 yearly.

The nurses employed at the institution enter as probationers, and are sent to the Liverpool Royal Infirmary for not less than 2 years' training before being sent out to private cases. Candidates should be between 25 and 35 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. After a personal interview (10 A.M. to 12 on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays) and 1 month's trial, applicants found suitable will be required to enter into an agreement to serve the institution for a period of not less than 1 year subsequent to the completion of their hospital training. Probationers attend the LECTURES given by the hon. medical staff of the Royal Infirmary on all subjects connected with nursing, and classes are also held by the assistant lady superintendent at the Home. All probationers and nurses are required to pass such examinations as may from time to time be prescribed. While in training they are subject to rules and regulations of the Royal Infirmary. Certificates are given upon satisfactorily completing engagement, and will be extended after further service. A certificate, however, may be recorded as cancelled on the register of nurses, kept by the institution, for any subsequent misconduct or inefficiency. At the end of 2 years' training nurses may be employed either in hospital, private or district nursing, as seems desirable. PREMIUM, nil. SALARY, 1st year, £10 (reckoned from after the trial month); 2nd year, £16; 3rd year, £18; 4th year, £25, increasing £2 annually to £35. Three weeks' holiday in a year allowed, all at one time, in the summer. Laundry and indoor uniform are provided; outdoor uniform is not provided. When not engaged at cases nurses live free of expense in the Home.

Special Probationers are received for a course of 1 year's training in hospital and district nursing. They are subject to the same conditions as ordinary probationers, but no certificates are granted under 3 years' service. Special probationers pay £5 upon entering the Home for the trial month, which sum will be retained if they do not continue their training; £30 (including deposit), payable in advance for the 1st 6 months' training; £20 for the 2nd 6 months. These sums, £50 in all, include board, lodging, laundry and indoor uniform. Special probationers may, if considered suitable, extend their engagement for a further period of 2 years' training, in which case they receive salary and certificates on the same terms as ordinary probationers and nurses, and £15 of their premium will be returned to them. All nurses are required to attend public worship when at the Home.

The Training School was founded in 1862, and is managed by a Committee formed amongst the governors of the Royal Infirmary, Liverpool. The net earnings of the institution are applied for the benefit of the nursing staff, and there is a superannuation fund, from which at the present time 17 nurses are receiving pensions of £20 per annum. It is the rule of the institution that all ordinary probationers from the commencement, special probationers from the second year, of their training must become members of the Pension and Benefits Fund.

Manchester.—Northern Workhouse Nursing Association. HON. SECRETARY, Miss Isabel O. Lowndes, 66 Barton Arcade, Manchester. The objects of the Association are to promote the employment of trained nurses in Workhouses, to supply trained nurses to Boards of Guardians requiring them, and to train nurses specially for the work. The sphere of the Association's work is confined to the 225 Unions, English and Welsh, north of the Trent. The Union Infirmaries in which Probationers are trained for the Association are at present as follows; Crumpsall and Withington, Manchester; Birmingham; Brownlow Hill, Liverpool; Sheffield; and Carlisle. 56 Nurses; 21 Probationers.

Probationers must be between 24 and 35 years of age, and the usual term of training is 1 year, during which no salary is given. Each probationer will, before being accepted for the year, have a month's trial at the hospital or infirmary where she is to be trained. For the trial month she must provide herself with a plainly made dark dress or 2 print dresses. If appointed at the end of the month, indoor uniform will be provided for her. Probationers will be in all respects subject to the rules of the institution where they are being trained. At the end of the period of training probationers will be supplied with situations by the Association, and for the next 3 years they will be required to take such posts as may be offered to them, to resign such if desired by the Committee, not to resign without permission, and to be considered members of the Association. If any nurse leave the service of the Association during training, or during the 3 years following, she shall be liable to refund to the Association the total cost incurred by them on her behalf. The SALARIES at first after training will not be less than £20 per annum, with board, lodging, washing and indoor uniform.

Candidates should be between 23 and 28 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. After a personal interview and 2 months' trial, suitable applicants are required to bind themselves to the Association for 5 years. During the 1st year they are trained in the Northallerton Cottage Hospital. Upon the completion of the year's training, nurses may be sent to such cases as the lady superintendent considers them capable of attending. A further training of 3 months at Glasgow Maternity Hospital is given to them, when convenient to the Rural Nursing Association, during the course of their 5 years' engagement, the certificates thus gained are held by the committee until the nurse's terms of service are complete. When not engaged at a private case, nurses return to the Cottage Hospital where they are employed as required. They are subject to the control of the lady superintendent, and are expected to conform to the rules. No nurse can leave the Association before the expiration of the agreement except by consent of the lady superintendent and upon payment of £15 to refund the Association some part of the cost of her training. For grave misconduct a nurse may be dismissed. In such cases she will forfeit all testimonials and be required to pay the sum of £15. Three months' notice is required from nurses desirous of leaving the Association after their 5 years' service. FEES CHARGED for cases vary according to the circumstances of the patients. SALARIES, 1st and 2nd year, £11; 3rd year, £18, increasing £1 each year until the end of agreement. In addition to the salary at the end of 2nd year, a gratuity of £2 is awarded for good conduct. Laundry, indoor and outdoor uniform (which must always be worn when on duty) are provided. Nurses are boarded and lodged at the Cottage Hospital when not at a case.

The Association is federated to the Pension Fund for Trained Nurses in Scotland for the purpose of assisting nurses to make provision for sickness or old age.

Edinburgh.—Queen Victoria's Jubilee Institute for Nurses, Scottish Branch, Scottish District Training Home, 29 Castle Terrace, Edinburgh. HON. SECRETARY, Miss G. E. Guthrie Wright, 2 Lansdowne Crescent, Edinburgh.

The Scottish Branch of the Q.V.J.I.N. was founded in 1888, the late Countess of Rosebery being the first president. An annual grant from the Women's Jubilee Offering was assigned to it by the Council of the Institute, and the Scottish branch has from this source an income of £300 to be applied towards the training of nurses, and of £100 a year for lectures given on hygiene, gynæcology, fevers, diet, etc., and lessons on sick cookery. There are now 72 local associations affiliated to the Scottish branch, and the nurses thus employed are much appreciated by their patients. The Council engage nurses who have already had not less than 2 years' training in medical and surgical nursing at some recognised hospital, and they also take a certain number of probationers, paying for them to receive 2 years' training, with a salary of £5 for the 1st year, and £10 for the 2nd year. These trained probationers are sent to the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary, Leith Hospital, Chalmers' Hospital, and Barnhill Hospital (Glasgow). On completion of the hospital course all nurses have to have a further training of 6 months' duration in district nursing under the supervision of a superintendent, and nurses engaged for country districts receive in addition 3 months' training in Glasgow Maternity Hospital. About 24 or 25 are thus trained in Edinburgh. Glasgow, Dundee, Aberdeen, and Paisley are authorised to train in district work for their own staff. A Pension Fund is in process of formation, and 2 pensions definitely framed will be granted only to those nurses who have made systematic and fair efforts to provide for themselves.

The Edinburgh branch of the Q.V.J.I.N. has for its lady superintendent, Miss Wade. There are also 2 assistant superintendents, viz., DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Hadden ; ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Cowper ; 2 resident Queen's nurses ; and 12 probationers. Nursing is afforded to the sick poor in their own homes, those who are able to do so being encouraged to make some contribution to the funds of the branch. The nurses receive from £30 to £35 per annum, with board, lodging, washing, and indoor and outdoor uniform. Superintendents receive a higher salary, varying according to the size of the home and their responsibility.

For a list of places in Scotland where Queen's District Nurses are employed, see page 208. These centres are affiliated to the Q.V.J.I.N. (Scottish Branch).

Edinburgh.—Royal Scottish Nursing Association, 69 Queen Street. Telegraphic address—"Matron," Edinburgh. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss MacVicar ; 110 to 120 Nurses.

Candidates must have received at least 3 years' training in a general hospital. FEES CHARGED.—Ordinary, £1 5s. ; infectious, mental, or massage, £1 10s. a week ; maternity, £8 8s. a month. SALARY, £30 to £48. Uniform provided. Each nurse is entitled to a pension of £15 per annum after 15 years' service if invalided. There are branches at Dumfries and at Crieff.

Glasgow Sick Poor and Private Nursing Association, 218 Bath Street, Glasgow. (Affiliated to Q.V.J.I.N., Scottish Branch). LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Lamont ; DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Berwick ; 22 District ; 33 Private Nurses ; 17 Probationers. The number of applications and vacancies varies. The objects of the Association are to provide nurses gratuitously for the sick poor, and trained nurses for those able to pay for their services.

Candidates for either division of nurses must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. Probationers should be about 25 years of age. After a personal interview, when at all possible, and a month's trial, suitable applicants are received for training. They are sent for a period of 2 years to one of the following hospitals : the Royal Infirmary, Belvidere Fever Hospital, Glasgow ; Paisley Infirmary ; or Ayr County Infirmary, being subject during their probationership to the rules and to the matron of the Training School. Probationers who break their engagements with the Association are liable to a fine. Candidates for the post of nurse must hold certificates of 3 years' training from a general hospital, and those desirous of being employed in maternity work must, in addition, hold midwifery or monthly nursing certificates. One month's notice is required before leaving the service of the Association. RECREATION, 8 hours' rest out of the sick room; a short walk daily, and time to attend church once on Sunday, whenever possible, is expected by the rules under which nurses are sent out; 3 weeks' holiday in a year. FEES CHARGED.—Ordinary cases, £1 10s.; typhus and small-pox, £2 2s.; other infectious cases, £1 10s.; mental, from £1 10s. to £2; maternity cases, £2 2s. per week. PREMIUM for probationers, nil. Dublin.—Queen Victoria's Jubilee Institute for Nurses, Irish Branch. Office—14 Nassau Street, Dublin. GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Mary E. Dunn. TRAINING HOMES.—St. Patrick's, 101 Stephen's Green, Dublin; Lady Superintendent, Miss F. F. Howell. St. Lawrence's, 34 Rutland Square, Dublin; Lady Superintendent, Miss M. St. Clair. The former Home trains candidates of the Protestant denominations; the latter those of the Roman Catholic Church.

The regulations for the Irish branch are identical with those for England and Wales (which see), with the exception that candidates not wishing to bind themselves to the "Queen's Institute" for 2 years can notwithstanding become "Queen's" Nurses by paying for their own district training, attending lectures, and presenting themselves for the required examinations. Paying probationers at St. Patrick's are charged by the Home at the rate of 12s. 6d. a week. They also provide their own uniform. Further particulars with regard to these special arrangements can be obtained on application from the respective superintendent of either home.

The houses, which are admirably situated on the north and south side of the city are commodious, and very comfortable, and are well appointed in all respects for the purpose for which they are designed. Owing to the number and variety of cases attended in the districts under the supervision of medical men, Dublin affords an excellent field in which to gain experience in this particular branch of nursing. Last year over 2000 patients were nursed throughout the city, to whom more than 38,000 visits were paid. On the completion of their district training the nurses are passed on to other places throughout Ireland, wherever the local committees are willing to comply with the conditions of affiliation imposed by the "Queen's Institute." There are, up to date, including the Dublin Training Homes, 35 such associations scattered throughout the country, and to this number new districts are being constantly added.

For a list of places in Ireland where Queen's Nurses are employed, see page 209. These centres are affiliated to Q.V.J.I.N. (Irish Branch).

GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS, HOSPITALS AND INSTITUTIONS IN GREAT BRITAIN WHERE NURSES ARE EMPLOYED BUT NOT TRAINED.

VI. — GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS, HOSPITALS AND INSTITUTIONS IN GREAT BRITAIN WHERE NURSES ARE EMPLOYED BUT NOT TRAINED.

The following details concerning selected institutions are supplied with a view of showing the kinds of employment, number of vacancies, rates of remuneration, and conditions of service obtainable by those who, on completing their training, do not desire to act as Private Nurses, and who may not be eligible for staff appointments in their Training School. It is not intended to be an exhaustive list of places where trained nurses are employed (this may be found in Burdett's Hospitals and Charities), but the Editor hopes it will be found typical :—

LONDON.

Army Nursing Service. Address—The Adjutant-General of the Forces, War Office, Pall Mall, S.W. The following are extracts from the regulations for admission to the Army Nursing Service :—

Constitution.—The Female Nursing Service of the Army is classified as follows : (1) Lady superintendent ; (2) Senior nursing sisters acting as superintendents ; (3) Nursing sisters. The two former classes will, as a rule, but not necessarily, be filled up from the grade below it, by selection, on grounds of experience, administrative capacity, and personal fitness.

Qualification of Candidates.—A candidate for the appointment of acting superintendent or nursing sister must not be under 25 nor over 35 years of age, and have had at least 3 years' preliminary training and service combined in a civil general hospital. She is required to produce the following documents :—

(a) An extract from the register of her birth ; or, if this is not obtainable, a declaration made before a magistrate by one of her parents or guardians, giving the date of her birth.

(b) A recommendation from a person of social position (not a member of her own family) to the effect that the candidate s family is one of respectability and good standing in society, that she is in every way a desirable person to enter a service composed of ladies, and that she possesses the tact, temper and ability qualifying her for appointment to the Nursing Service of the Army.

(c) A statement, signed by the candidate, showing whether she is single, married, or a widow; whether a member of a sisterhood or society; and giving particulars of the place and duration of her hospital training, which must have been undergone for at least 12 months of the time in a civil general hospital where adult male patients receive medical and surgical treatment, and in which a staff of nursing sisters, under a matron, is maintained.

(d) Certificates of efficiency in medical and surgical nursing from the medical officers under whom she has served.

(e) A recommendation from the matron of the civil hospital at which she was trained.

(f) A certificate from a qualified medical practitioner that she is in good health.

Candidates must state, in addition—(1) what experience they have had in hospital supervision; (2) what they personally understand by the duties of a superintendent, and the execution of medical orders.

Probationary Service.—On being nominated for an appointment, a candidate is required to undergo a period of six months' probation at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Netley, for the purpose of further testing her suitability for the military nursing service.

Uniform.—Every nursing sister is provided annually with the following articles of regulation uniform: 3 grey serge gowns, 6 white aprons, 6 muslin caps, 6 turn-down linen collars and cuffs, and 1 grey bonnet and veil. She is further supplied triennially with 1 summer and 1 winter cloak. The uniform should be worn on all occasions excepting holidays. Sisters dismissed for misconduct will forfeit the whole of the regulation clothing, and in the event of their leaving the service voluntarily, they may also be required to return all clothing issued to them during the previous 12 months.

Service Abroad.—A roster of the nursing sisters on duty at home is kept in the office of the Director-General, and, as a general rule, those who have been for the longest period at home will be the first to proceed abroad. The period of service abroad, reckoning from the date of embarkation at home, will be five years, unless such period be incompatible with the interests of the public service.

Leave of Absence.—The following are extracts from the Royal Warrant relating to Pay, etc., of the 2nd April, 1894 :—

"891. . . . A nursing sister may be granted ordinary leave of absence without forfeiture of pay, and when no expense to the public is thereby incurred, for a period of 30 days in each year, irrespectively of service. All sick leave taken in conformity with Article 899 shall be reckoned in diminution of ordinary leave.

"892. Pay during accumulated leave of absence after service at a station abroad shall be admitted if the accumulated leave do not exceed that allowed for 3 successive years.

"899. If necessarily absent from sickness arising from other causes than duty, but not attributable to intemperance or misconduct, and provided the persons concerned be of good character, leave of absence shall be allowed as follows: (a) In the case of nursing sisters, whether at home or abroad—Full pay for a period or periods not exceeding 3 months in any 1 year. If after the expiration of that period they are still unable to resume duty, reduced pay for a further period not exceeding 3 months, as follows: Two-thirds pay after 20 years' service; half-pay after less than 20 years' service."

Pay and Allowances.—The following are extracts from the Royal Warrant relating to Pay, etc., of 2nd April, 1894 :—

"327. The pay of the lady superintendent of nurses shall be at the rate of £150 a year, increasing by £10 yearly to £200 a year, with an additional allowance of £50 a year for training the nursing staff, and carrying out such duties as the Director-General of our Army Medical Department may from time to time direct.

"865. A nursing sister shall receive as wages £30 for her 1st year of service, and an increase of £2 after every year of satisfactory service until her yearly wages amount to £50.

"866. A senior nursing sister acting as superintendent shall receive pay at the rate of £20 a year in addition to her wages, under Article 865."

In addition to the allowances specified in this section, acting superintendents and nursing sisters are supplied with public quarters, and with fuel and light.

The following is extracted from the Allowance Regulations, 1894 :—

"683. A special allowance, in lieu of board and washing, at the rate of 13s. a week at a home station, or of 3s. a day at a station abroad when rations in kind are not supplied, and of 3s. 6d. a week when they are supplied, will be granted to such nursing sisters as the Secretary of State may appoint under the Royal Warrant relating to Pay, etc. The other allowances at stations abroad, including the allowance for servants, will be at such rates, not exceeding those of a departmental officer of subaltern rank, as the Secretary of State may determine."

Retirement and Pension.—The following are extracts from the Royal Warrants relating to Pay, etc., of 2nd April and 16th June, 1894 :—

" 349. The lady superintendent of nurses shall retire on attaining the age of 60.

" 868. No acting superintendent or nursing sister shall continue in the service after the age of 60, and an acting superintendent or a nursing sister may be called upon, at any time after she has reached the age of 50, to retire on the pension earned by her service, should such a course be desirable on public grounds.

" 868A. An acting superintendent or a nursing sister may also be required to retire on account of unfitness for the duties of her appointment, with such gratuity as she may be entitled to under Article 1159A.

" 1071. Lady Superintendent—20 per cent. of her salary after 10 years' service, rising by 2 per cent. for each additional year of service, up to a maximum of 50 per cent.

" 1157. An acting superintendent or a nursing sister shall be entitled to retire on pension on attaining the age of 60, or if after 10 years of service she be rendered unfit for hospital duty through disease or injury, certified by 2 medical officers specially appointed to examine her.

" 1158. The rate of pension for an acting superintendent or nursing sister shall, after 10 years' service, be 30 per cent. of her wages for the preceding year, and shall rise 2 per cent. of her wages for each additional year's service to a maximum of 70 per cent. of her wages for the year preceding the grant of the pension.

" 1159. An acting superintendent or a nursing sister disabled in the service, after 5 but under 10 years' service, shall be granted such rate of pension below that fixed in Article 1158 as may be determined by our Secretary of State. If she have served for less than 5 years when disabled, she shall receive a gratuity, to be determined in like manner.

" 1159A. An acting superintendent or a nursing sister retired under Article 868A may, provided she has not been guilty of misconduct, be granted a gratuity of one month's pay for each year of service, if not entitled to a pension under Article 1158.

" 1160. An acting superintendent or nursing sister pensioned for disability under the age of 60 shall be liable, should such disability cease, to be called upon to re-enter the service with the wages to which she would have been entitled had she not been disabled ; and should she refuse so to enter the service her pension shall cease.

" 1161. An acting superintendent or a nursing sister pensioned on account of disability may count 1 year of service in a tropical climate as 2 years towards pension.

" 1162. An acting superintendent or a nursing sister, in any case of special devotion to her duties, may be granted a higher pension than that fixed by Article 1158; not, however, exceeding £50 a year.

" 1163. In cases where, after a period of not less than 6 months' sick leave, an acting superintendent or nursing sister is pensioned for a disability not permanently unfitting her for duty, the pension shall cease on the date when she again becomes fit for duty, unless there should then be no vacancy, in which case, should she be willing to continue her service, she may remain on pension for a period not exceeding 1 year, pending a vacancy.

" 1164. An acting superintendent or nursing sister retiring without having previously obtained permission to do so shall forfeit all claim to pension."

Army Nursing Service Reserve, 18 Victoria Street, S.W. This is intended to form a reserve of nurses to supplement the regular nursing service of the army, in the event of war on an extended scale. In time of peace the control rests with a specially constituted committee, under the presidency of Princess Christian; but in time of war the nursing sisters (or as many of them as may be required), will be entirely under the control of the War Department.

The following are extracts from the regulations :—

Qualification of Candidates.—A candidate for the appointment of nursing sister must be not under 25 nor over 35 years of age, and must have had at least 3 years' preliminary training and service combined in a civil general hospital. She will be required to produce similar documents to those required for the Army Nursing Service marked (a), (b), (c), (d) and (f), and also the following :—

A recommendation from the matron of the civil hospital at which she was trained, who must certify that she possesses the tact, temper, and ability qualifying her for appointment to the Nursing Service Reserve of the Army. Ability to speak one or more foreign languages will be considered an additional qualification, and will give preference in selection.

Candidates must state, in addition : (1) What experience they have had in hospital supervision ; and (2) What they personally understand by the duties of a superintendent, and the execution of medical orders.

Dress.—Members of the Reserve will not be bound by any rules as regards dress or uniform, but will be required to wear at all times the badge of the Army Nursing Service Reserve. The badge will be worn on the right breast. When members of the Reserve are called up for Army service they will become amenable to the ordinary regulations of the Army Nursing Service.

Retirement.—On attaining the age of 50, nursing sisters will cease to belong to the Reserve.

Pay and Allowances.—When called up for duty a nursing sister will receive pay at the rate of £40 per annum, and when performing the duties of acting superintendent she will receive extra pay at the rate of £20 per annum. On cessation of employment, nursing sisters—including acting superintendents—will receive a gratuity of £20. They will also receive a further gratuity of £10 for each year of service beyond the first, if at home, and of £20 if abroad. Fractions of a year will be calculated at the same rate. These gratuities are sanctioned subject to the following conditions :—

(a) The service rendered by a nursing sister must have been in all respects of a satisfactory nature and certified to by a responsible officer.

(b) The cessation of employment must have been due to causes beyond the nursing sister's own control.

(c) Any nursing sister relinquishing her engagement for reasons within her own control will forfeit her title to a gratuity—even though her services may exceed a year.

A special allowance in lieu of board and washing at the rate of 13s. a week at a home station, or of 3s. a day at a station abroad when rations in kind are not supplied, and of 3s. 6d. a week when they are supplied, will be granted to sisters of the Reserve when called up for duty. A special allowance for the provision of clothing will also be granted to such nursing sisters at the following rates: Annual clothing allowance abroad, £4 7s.; annual clothing allowance at home, £4 ; triennial winter cloak allowance, £2 ; triennial summer cloak allowance, £1 5s. The other allowances at stations abroad, including the allowance for servants, will be at such rates, not exceeding those of a departmental officer of subaltern rank, as the Secretary of State for War may determine.

Each candidate has to sign a declaration that she is willing to serve under the rules laid down in the Army Medical Regulations, in so far as they may be applicable, and in the event of war, is prepared (when called up for duty) to join at any military hospital in the United Kingdom to which she may be posted.

The device on the badges, which are circular and are all silver, is a Geneva Cross, with a crown at the end of each arm. Between the arms are representations of the rose, shamrock, thistle and acorn ; and the badge bears the inscription, "Princess Christian's Army Nursing Reserve".

Fulham Union Infirmary, St. Dunstan's Road, Hammersmith, W. Beds, 500. MATRON, Miss Mary E. Shipley; 1 Assistant Matron; 2 Night Superintendents; 12 Charge Nurses; 1 Midwife; 12 Night Nurses; 18 Assistant Nurses; 1 Receiving Ward Nurse; 1 Midwifery Pupil.

At present there is no Training School attached to this infirmary, but one is in course of formation. Classes and practical instruction are held for pupil midwives, who also attend outside lectures. Nurses' RECREATION, 2 hours daily; 16 hours weekly; 1 day monthly; 2 weeks' holiday in a year. SALARIES paid to charge nurses, £26, rising to £32; assistant nurses, £16, rising to £19 per annum. Laundry and indoor uniform are provided; outdoor uniform is not provided. Pensions during sickness and old age have in some cases been granted to nurses.

Indian Nursing Service. The following Memorandum of Information (Form 147) is supplied by the India Office:—

Conditions of Appointment, etc. (1) The nursing establishment consists of two grades, viz., (a) lady superintendents (b), nursing sisters. Note.—The term "lady nurse" as used in the following paragraphs includes both the above grades. (2) Nursing sisters must be at the time of appointment over 25 and under 35 years of age, and before admission to the service they must be examined by the president of the Medical Board at the India Office as to their fitness for service in India. They must have had at least 3 years' preliminary training and service combined in a hospital in which adult male patients receive medical and surgical treatment, and in which a staff of nursing sisters is maintained. (3) The duration of a term of service for both grades of lady nurses is 5 years, capable of renewal for a further 5 years at the option of the Government, with the consent of the lady nurse. (4) The engagement may, however, be terminated at any time on six months' notice being given either on the part of the Government or of the lady nurse. (But see par. 12.) (5) Rates of Pay (in addition to free quarters, fuel, light and punkah-pullers).—For a lady superintendent, Rs.300 per mensem; for a nursing sister, Rs.175 per mensem, commencing from the date of embarkation for India. A senior nursing sister acting as superintendent at a station where no lady superintendent is located receives an additional allowance of Rs.25 per mensem. (6) Leave in India.—Leave on medical certificate up to a maximum of 6 months during the whole of the 5 years' term of service may be granted to a lady nurse by the principal medical officer, Her Majesty's forces; during such leave she will receive two-thirds of the salary of her grade. Short leave and privilege leave may be granted at the discretion of the local authorities and as circumstances may admit. (7) Leave out of India.—After engagement for a second (5 years) term of service a lady nurse may be granted 1 years' leave from duty on two-thirds pay with free passage by sea and rail from and to her station. Such period will not reckon as service in any way. (8) Gratuities.—The following rate of gratuities are payable to lady nurses on completion of their total Indian service: for a completed term of 5 years, lady superintendents Rs.1200, nursing sisters Rs.500; for a completed term of 10 years, lady superintendents Rs.4000, nursing sisters Rs.1500; if compelled by sickness to leave India before completion of a 5 years' term, for each completed year's service, lady superintendents Rs.200, nursing sisters Rs.75; if compelled by sickness to leave India after completion of a first term of 5 years' service, but before completion of a second, for each completed year of the second 5 years' term, lady superintendents Rs.240, nursing sisters Rs.100, in addition to the gratuity for the completed term of 5 years, as shown above. (9) No gratuity is given for service terminated by any other cause than sickness or the completion of the terms of 5 and 10 years' service. (10) Passage, etc.—Passage at the public expense, subject to a deduction of 2s. a day for messing while on board ship, is granted to lady nurses when proceeding to India on appointment, when returning home on leave (under par. 7), on completion of a term of service, or if invalided home before the completion of a term. They are entitled to take 6 cwt. of baggage. Lady nurses are also entitled to travelling expenses by rail on the above occasions from their places of residence in England to port of embarkation, and from port of disembarkation in India to destination in that country, and vice versâ. (11) An outfit allowance on appointment is made at the rate of £25 for each lady superintendent and £15 for each nursing sister. (12) A lady nurse who resigns (except on account of ill-health), with less than 5 years' Indian service, will forthwith refund the sum of £20 in respect of her passage out (or £30 if she have failed to give the notice required by Rule 4), and will not be entitled to a passage home. (13) A lady nurse who has re-engaged for a second term of service in India, will be subject to the same penalties, if she resigns (except on account of ill-health) without giving 6 months' notice, but not otherwise. (14) Lady nurses must be prepared to embark, if necessary, not later than 30 days from appointment.

A candidate is further required to make a declaration and to answer the following questions: Age next birthday, supported by certificate of birth ; place of birth ; profession or occupation of father ; whether single, married, or widow ; place and standard of education ; whether a member of any sisterhood or society ; state of health, supported by a medical certificate ; in what hospital trained and for how long, with original certificates as to efficiency in medical and surgical nursing from the medical officers of the hospital where the training has been undergone ; original letters of personal recommendation, including one from a lady of position in society, who must state that the candidate is in every way a fit and desirable person to enter a service composed of ladies of good social position with whom she will associate.

VII.—FOREIGN, COLONIAL AND AMERICAN HOSPITALS AND NURSING INSTITUTIONS.

THE following particulars, kindly supplied to the Editor by the authorities of some American and Colonial Hospitals and Nursing Institutions, are published to afford an interesting comparison between the life of nurses in England and that of their sisters in other parts of the world :—

AUSTRALASIA.

Auckland Directory for Nurses, Auckland, New Zealand. (Under the control of a committee of the Auckland Branch of the New Zealand Medical Association.)

Upon the recommendation of 2 duly qualified practitioners and the possession of qualifications and testimonials deemed sufficient by the Managing Committee, private nurses may enter in the Directory their names, addresses, the fees they charge for the branch of nursing they desire to follow, on payment of a small registration fee yearly, in return for which facilities are afforded them in obtaining employment. Nurses who thus register their names are not required to make engagements only through the Directory ; they are expected to accept employment offered in other ways, the Directory being an additional aid. The committee exercises a strict supervision over the conduct and efficiency of registered nurses, and for what it deems good cause may remove the name of a nurse from the Directory.

After a personal interview and 1 month's trial, applicants are received for 2 years' training. LECTURES are given by the medical staff upon physiology, anatomy, obstetrical nursing, materia medica and therapeutics, hygiene, surgery, etc.; and practical instruction in care of sick is given by the superintendent. Certificates are granted after examination and satisfactorily completing engagement. RECREATION, 1 hour daily; 2 half-days weekly; an occasional holiday monthly; 2 weeks' holiday yearly. PREMIUM, nil. SALARY.—Probationers, nil. Laundry is provided. After a period of 6 to 10 months' training in the wards, probations may be sent to nurse private cases. FEES CHARGED.—$7, $8 and $10 per week; and according to place sent to. No salary is paid to the nurses on the private staff, but a portion of the net earnings is devoted to their use in the form of an allowance for personal expenses, board, lodging, laundry, indoor and outdoor uniform.

Victoria, British Columbia.—Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital. Beds, 65. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Margaret Macmillan; 10 Pupil Nurses.

Candidates should be between 21 and 30 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, health and physique. After a personal interview and 3 months' trial, applicants are received for a course of 2 years' training, During the 1st month candidates are called probationers, they are examined in reading, writing, arithmetic and plain sewing, and if considered suitable are appointed as pupil nurses. LECTURES are given by the visiting and resident physicians and surgeons upon anatomy, physiology, medical and surgical nursing, hygiene, the theory of nursing, bandaging, etc.; practical instruction by the matron. Certificates are granted upon passing examination and satisfactorily completing engagement. RECREATION, 1 hour daily; 2 half days weekly; 2 weeks' holiday yearly. SALARIES.—During 1st month, nil; afterwards from $85 to $210 per annum. Laundry, indoor and outdoor uniform are provided after the 1st month. In case of sickness nurses are treated free of charge in the wards of the hospital.

Winnipeg, Manitoba. — Winnipeg General Hospital Training School for Nurses. Beds, 145. LADY SUPERINTENDENT, Miss Bessie Holland; 4 Graduate Charge Nurses; 26 Pupil Nurses. Applications average 100, and vacancies 11 yearly.

Candidates should be between 21 and 34 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. Atfer a personal interview and 2 months' trial as probationer, during which they are required to pass an examination in reading, writing, simple arithmetic and plain sewing, applicants are received as pupil nurses for a period of 3 years' training. LECTURES are given by the medical superintendent, the lady superintendent and the medical staff upon anatomy, physiology and hygiene to the junior class during the 1st year; and upon medical, surgical and obstetric nursing, gynæcology and urinalysis to the senior class in the 2nd year. Opportunity is afforded for a thorough training in medical, surgical and obstetric nursing. Diplomas, together with the school badge (silver Maltese Cross), are awarded upon passing the oral and written examinations and satisfactorily completing engagement. Pupil nurses' classes are formed on 1st April and 1st October in each year; and the 3 years' course for each pupil nurse begins from the date of the formation of the first class next after her being received as a pupil nurse. The salary, however, is paid from the time the probationer is accepted as a pupil nurse. RECREATION, 1 hour daily; 1 half day weekly; 2 weeks' holiday in the year. SALARY.—Probationers nil; pupil nurses $8 per month during the 3 years; graduate charge nurses, $20 per month. Laundry is provided, but indoor and outdoor uniform are not provided.

There is a private staff in connection with the hospital. Pupil nurses may be sent out to private cases after a period of from 15 to 18 months' training in the wards. FEES CHARGED.—Ordinary and maternity cases, $12; infectious, $15 per week. SALARIES paid to graduates on the private staff, $20 per month. Laundry provided. The school is unsectarian, but pupil nurses are expected to attend their own places of worship once every Sunday.

There is also an isolated hospital for contagious cases, with separate sections of 3 wards each, for diphtheria, scarlet fever, erysipelas and measles, and phthisis. Nurses employed in this hospital live in a separate home, while serving in the several departments.

The system of 3 years' training has recently been adopted by the authorities in consequence of the difficulty of enabling each pupil to serve in the many departments of the hospital during a 2 years' course. The Winnipeg was one of the first Canadian hospitals to afford its nurses a 3 years' period of training.

SOUTH AFRICA.

Port Elizabeth, Cape Colony.—Provincial Hospital. Beds, 120. Four Charge Nurses; 3 Staff Nurses; 2 Probationers.

Owing to lack of sleeping accommodation there is at present no regular training school attached to this hospital; it is hoped, however, that quarters may be built during the next few years for a larger staff of nurses. Applications are many, and vacancies few. Candidates should be between 18 and 25 years of age, and must produce satisfactory evidence as to character, education, health and physique. After a personal interview with the resident surgeon and a month's trial, applicants are received for training. LECTURES are given in connection with St. John Ambulance Association, and practical instruction in nursing and ward work by the charge nurses. Certificates are no longer granted, the Colonial Medical Council having rescinded the authority to certify the training of their nurses, formerly allowed to hospital committees. The council itself holds State Examinations every 6 months, and all nurses passing the examination are registered by the Government. RECREATION, half day weekly; 14 days yearly. SALARIES.—Charge Nurses, £36 to £50 per annum; probationers, £12 to £36 per annum. Laundry and indoor uniform are provided. There is no private staff in connection with the hospital.

TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR ATTENDANTS ON THE INSANE.

VIII.—TRAINING SCHOOLS FOR ATTENDANTS ON THE INSANE.

THE UNITED KINGDOM.

A LARGE number of the asylums in the United Kingdom have now adopted a system of training attendants on the insane in connection with the examinations held by the Medico-Psychological Association, for particulars of which see page 314. Instruction is given at the asylums by means of lectures, practical work, etc. Amongst the asylums which have adopted this course are: Aberdeen Royal Lunatic Asylum; Argyll and Bute District Asylum; Ballinasloe District Asylum; Birmingham City Asylums at Ruberry Hill and Winson Green; Bethlem Royal Hospital; Broodmoor Asylum; Bristol City Asylum; Carlow District Asylum; Cheshire County Asylum at Upton; City of London Asylum, Stone; Clonmel District Asylum; Cork District Asylum; Coton Hill Hospital for the Insane; Crichton Royal Asylum, Dumfries; Derby Borough Asylum; Derby County Asylum; Dundee Royal Lunatic Asylum; Durham County Asylum; Edinburgh Royal Asylum; Exeter City Asylum; Fife and Kinross District Asylum; Glasgow Parochial Asylum, Lenzie; Glasgow Royal Asylum; Glamorgan County Asylum; Gloucester County Asylums; Greenock Parochial Asylum; Hants County Asylum; Holloway Sanatorium; Hull Borough Asylum; Inverness District Asylum; Kent County Asylums at Barming Heath and Chartham Downs; Kilkenny District Asylum; Kirklands Asylum, Glasgow; Lanark District Asylum; Lancaster County Asylums at Rainhill; Letterkenny District Asylum; Limerick District Asylum; London County Orphans at Cane Hill and Claybury; Londonderry District Asylum; Maryborough District Asylum; Middlesex County Asylum; Monmouth County Asylum; Mullingar District Asylum; Norfolk County Asylum; Northumberland County Asylum; Nottingham Borough Asylum; Nottingham County Asylum; Oxford County Asylum; Omagh District Asylum; Paisley Parochial Asylum; Perth James Murray's Royal Asylum; Perth District Asylum; Plymouth Borough Asylum; Richmond Asylum, Dublin; Roxburgh District Asylum; St. Luke's Hospital, London; Stafford County Asylums at Burntwood and Stafford; Stirling District Asylum; Surrey County Asylum; Warneford Asylum; Warwick County Asylum; York, North Riding Asylum; York, West Riding Asylums at Menston, Wadsley and Wakefield; York, East Riding Asylum; York Retreat.

Since 1890 the Northampton County Asylum, Berrywood, has trained and given its own certificates to its nurses. A period of three years' training is insisted upon, which must all be spent in that asylum. Lectures and practical instruction in the wards are given on the following subjects: Elementary anatomy and physiology; first aid in emergencies; sick room duties; and nursing and care of the insane. An examination must be passed at the end of each year's training, and the character of the everyday ward work of the candidate is also taken into consideration.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

In connection with many of the hospitals for the insane in the United States, Training Schools for attendants on the insane have been established during the last fifteen years. In 1895 there were thirty-six such schools in the United States and Canada. In nearly all of these the regulations under which attendants are trained are on the same lines, and we think, therefore, it will be sufficient if we give those in use at the M'Lean Hospital at Waverley, Mass., the first asylum in the United States, we believe, to adopt a definite system of training. This Training School, which has been in existence for about fifteen years, has a roll of graduates numbering 231, viz., 162 women and 69 men.

The regulations provide for a two years' course of training in general nursing, with special reference to the cure of cases of nervous and mental disease. Candidates, either men or women, must apply to the superintendent, must produce satisfactory evidence of character and health, and should be between 21 and 35 years of age. They are received for two months' trial, at the expiration of which an agreement is entered into to complete the two years' training.

Instruction is given in the general care of the sick; the managing of helpless patients in bed, in moving, changing bed and body linen, making of beds, etc.; giving baths, keeping patients warm or cool, preventing and dressing bedsores; bandaging, applying of fomentations, poultices and minor dressings; the preparing and serving of food, the feeding of helpless patients and those who refuse food; the administering of enemas and use of the catheter; attendance upon patients requiring diversion and companionship; the observation of mental symptoms, delusions, hallucinations, delirium, stupor, etc.; and the care of excited, violent and suicidal patients. They are also given instruction in the best practical methods of supplying fresh air, warming and ventilating sick-rooms in a proper manner, and are taught to take proper care of rooms and wards, in keeping all utensils perfectly clean and disinfected, etc.; to observe the sick accurately in regard to the state of the secretions, pulse, breathing, skin, temperature, sleep, appetite, effect of diet, of stimulants and medicine; massage; and the managing of convalescents. The instruction is given by the supervisor and head nurses, and besides this lectures and demonstrations are given by the hospital medical staff. Examinations, chiefly upon practical points, take place from time to time. When the full term of two years is completed, the nurses thus trained receive (after final examinations) diplomas certifying to their period of training, their proficiency and good character. The pupils are employed as assistant nurses in the wards of the hospital. SALARY.—Men, 1st year, $23 per month; 2nd year, $25 per month; graduates, $27 and $30 per month, according to length of service; women, 1st year, $12 per month; 2nd year, $15 per month; graduates, $25 and $30 per month. Attendants are required to wear at all times, while on duty in the wards, the hospital uniform.

PROVIDENT FUNDS, EXAMINING BODIES, ASSOCIATIONS FOR THE BENEFIT OF NURSES, ETC.

IX.—PROVIDENT FUNDS, EXAMINING BODIES, ASSOCIATIONS FOR THE BENEFIT OF NURSES, ETC.

Guild of St. Barnabas for Nurses. Hon. Secretary, Miss C. J. Woods, 27 Percy Street, Tottenham Court Road, W.

This guild enrols trained nurses and midwives being members of the Church of England.

Guild of St. Veronica for Nurses. Secretary, Miss F. Robertson-Macdonald, 9 Great Bedford Street, Bath.

This guild has been formed for three purposes—(1) to form a bond of union amongst those who are engaged in the work of nursing the sick; (2) to aid the spiritual life of its members under the peculiar and special difficulties of their duties; and (3) to help its members to realise that nursing the sick is properly a religious work and should be performed as a labour of love.

Hospitals Association, The Hospital Building, 28 and 29 Southampton Street, Strand, W.C. President, H. Cosmo Bonsor, M.P. Chairman of Council, Duke of Leeds. Deputy Chairman, Sir Henry Burdett, K.C.B. Hon. Secretary, Sydney Phillips.

This association consists of ladies and gentlemen connected with the various branches of hospital administration, and has for its objects (1) to facilitate the consideration and discussion of matters connected with hospital management, and where advisable to take measures to further the decisions arrived at; and (2) to afford opportunities for the acquisition of a knowledge of hospital administration both lay and medical.

Junius S. Morgan Benevolent Fund. In connection with the Royal National Pension Fund for Nurses. Hon. Secretary, Miss R. Pritchard, 28 Finsbury Pavement, E.C. Visitor, Miss Leigh.

The objects of the fund are (1) to afford immediate, pecuniary and other relief by loan or gift to matrons, sisters and nurses (if members of the Pension Fund) who may be in distress, and to assist them in keeping up the payment of premiums on any policies they may have taken out with the society; and (2) to grant annuities to matrons, sisters and nurses who, from no fault of their own, may be unable to provide for themselves after 60 years of age. Applications for grants, which should be addressed to the Honorary Secretary, are considered and dealt with at the quarterly meetings. No application can be considered unless the papers are completed at least 14 days before any such meeting.

The funds at the end of 1896 amounted to £13,718.

Lady Roberts' Fund for Nursing Sisters' and Officers' Hospitals.

The objects of this fund are (1) to supply homes in the Hills for the nurses working in the military hospitals in India; (2) to provide officers' hospitals in connection with these homes where officers can be sent in case of illness, or for convalescence; (3) to provide an auxiliary staff of lady nurses to work in those military hospitals to which the Government has not supplied nurses.

London Obstetrical Society, 20 Hanover Square, W.

Examinations are held 4 times a year, in January, April, July and October. Candidates must be over 21 years of age, must produce a certificate of moral character, proof of having attended a lying-in hospital or charity for not less than 3 months, of having personally attended not less than 25 labours, and of having attended a course of theoretical teaching by lectures or tutorial instruction satisfactory to the board of examiners. Written and oral examinations are held. EXAMINATION FEE—£1 1s., half of which is returned to unsuccessful candidates.

Medico-Pyschological Association of Great Britain and Ireland, 11 Chandos Street, W. REGISTRAR, J. Beveridge Spence, M.D., Burntwood Asylum, Lichfield.

Examinations, both written and oral, are held by this association on the first Mondays in May and November, at individual asylums wherever there may be candidates. Candidates have to obtain from the Registrar a schedule of questions which has to be filled up and returned to the Registrar at least 4 weeks before the examination. Certificates are granted to those who pass the examination. In case of misconduct on the part of a holder of a certificate the Council may erase his or her name from the register. EXAMINATION FEE—2s. 6d.

The association insist that training of the candidates for their certificate shall be on the following lines: After 3 months' trial candidates are required to undergo 2 years' training and service (including the period of probation), except that in the case of persons possessing a certificate of competency in Nursing from a hospital or infirmary connected with a medical school, and having a system of training nurses a residence of 1 year only in an asylum is necessary. The system of training is (1) by study of the handbook issued under the authority of the association (other books may be used in addition); (2) by exercises under the head and ward attendants; (3) by clinical instruction in the wards, and lectures and demonstrations by the medical staff (at least 12 of the lectures must be attended during the 2 years of training); and (4) by periodical examinations. The scope of the training is limited to the ordinary requirements of nursing and attendance on insane patients, combined with instruction in the general features of mental disease, together with general ideas of bodily structure and function sufficient to enable nurses under training to understand such instruction and to qualify them to render "First Aid," especially in the case of accident or injury that may arise in asylums.

New regulations which will apply to all presenting themselves for examination after the 31st October, 1899 are at present under consideration. Under these regulations three years' training is substituted for the two years' now in force, the residence in an asylum for persons who have already received a hospital training being then two years. The system of training is as follows: (1) By study of the handbook (other books may be used in addition); (2) by periodical instruction under the head and charge attendants in nursing and attending on the insane; (3) by clinical instruction in the wards and by systematic lectures and demonstrations by the medical staff (at least twelve lectures of one hour's duration must be given in each year, and no attendant will be admitted to examination who has not attended at least nine lectures in each year); (4) by periodical examinations, one of which must be attended during each year.

Midwives' Institute and Trained Nurses' Club, 12 Buckingham Street, Strand, W.C. PRESIDENT, Miss Wilson. HON. SECRETARIES, Miss Brierly and Miss Mary Toynbee.

The objects of this society are (1) to raise the efficiency and improve the status of midwives, and to petition Parliament for their recognition; (2) to establish a registry for members and to establish a centre for information of the public; (3) to provide a medical lending library and club-room for friendly meetings; (4) to arrange courses for medical lectures and to afford opportunities for discussion on subjects connected with the profession. The society consists of founders, members, associates and lay-associates. Members are women who have obtained a medical qualification, and trained midwives over 21 years of age who have passed the L.O.S. Examination. Associates are trained nurses or midwives with any other diploma. Lay-associates are persons other than midwives interested in the objects of the society. See also page 205.

National Association for Supplying Female Medical Aid to the Women of India. (Supported by the Countess of Dufferin's Fund.) HON. SECRETARY to Central Committee in India, Brigade-Surg. Lieut.-Col. B. Franklin, Viceroy's Camp, India.

The objects of this society are (1) the establishment in India of dispensaries and hospitals for the treatment of women and children; (2) the opening of female wards under female superintendence in existing hospitals and dispensaries; and (3) the supply of trained female nurses and midwives in hospitals and private houses. A United Kingdom branch has been established to bring the aims of the association before the British public and to raise subscriptions for the Countess of Dufferin's Fund. The Hon. Secretary of the latter is the Marchioness of Dufferin and Ava, and the Assistant Secretary is Miss Edith Heather-Bigg, 14 Radnor Place, Hyde Park, W.

National Society for Aid to the Sick and Wounded in War (British Red Cross Society), 5 York Buildings, Duke Street, Adelphi, W.C. SECRETARY, J. G. Vokes. Telegraphic address—"Assistance," London.

Royal Red Cross. This decoration for women was instituted in 1883 for rewarding zeal and devotion in providing for and nursing sick and wounded sailors, soldiers and others with the army in the field, on board ship, or in hospitals.

Royal British Nurses' Association, 17 Old Cavendish Street, W. PRESIDENT, H.R.H. Princess Christian. HON. SECRETARIES, Mrs. Dacre Craven; E. A. Fardon. SECRETARY, Mrs. Rankin.

The objects of the corporation are (1) the founding and maintenance of schemes for the benefit of nurses in the practice of their profession and in times of adversity, sickness and old age; and (2) the maintenance and publication of a register of nurses. Membership is open to registered medical men and thoroughly trained registered nurses of 3 years' standing.

The association has two "Princess Helena Pensions" of £20 a year each for members of 3 years' standing over 50 years of age, indigent and past work. Pecuniary grants may also be made to members of 2 years' standing in temporary need.

Royal College of Physicians of Ireland.

Licences to practise as "midwives and nurse-tenders" are issued. Candidates must be not less than 21 years of age, must produce satisfactory evidence of character, and must have attended a course of systematic lectures on midwifery for 6 months, and for not less than 6 months on bedside instruction in a lying-in hospital or maternity recognised by the college. Oral and written examinations are held. FEE for examination, £2 2s.

Royal National Pension Fund for Nurses, 28 Finsbury Pavement, E.C.

PRESIDENT, H.R.H. The Princess of Wales. PATRON, H.R.H. The Prince of Wales. CHAIRMAN, Walter H. Burns. DEPUTY-CHAIRMAN, Sir Henry Burdett, K.C.B. SECRETARY, Louis H. M. Dick.

The chief object of this association is to afford nurses an absolutely safe means of providing at the lowest possible cost to themselves an allowance during incapacity for work caused by sickness or accident, and a certain income for their declining years. This object is carried out by receiving and investing such fixed periodical sums as those who join the fund can afford; by adding to the pensions all profits arising from any source; and by supplementing those sums from a donation bonus fund created and maintained by those interested in nurses and nursing institutions. Its benefits are open to nurses, attendants on the insane, and all responsible paid officials connected with hospitals and kindred institutions. Only nurses, however, may participate in the profits of the Donation Bonus Fund. In addition to a pension, nurses and hospital officials may insure themselves for sick pay. Hospitals and institutions employing nurses may become federated with the Royal National Pension Fund, and so may contract themselves out of all responsibility, so far as pensions and sick pay are concerned, for every member of their staff, from the highest to the lowest. By an expenditure, which in most cases need not exceed 10 per cent. of the amount expended upon salaries, the committee of a hospital are able to secure that every member of the staff shall be amply provided for against the day of sickness or incapacity. The committees who agree to federate with the Royal National Pension Fund, can retain control over all the monies paid into that fund, so that, by careful management, and the payment of a small annual sum into the trust thus created for the benefit of their employés, they will save the institution from all further liability, risk or trouble in the matter. Under the scheme of federation the committee of the hospital agree that the hospital shall take out with the fund a policy, on the returnable scale, for a pension on the life of any matron, sister or nurse, who in her own name takes out a policy with the fund for a pension of not less than the amount subscribed for by the hospital. The committee agrees to continue to pay premiums on the hospital pension policies and the sick assurance policies so long as the nurse remains in the service of the hospital. Nurses withdrawing the premiums paid in under their own policies, while in the service of the hospital or within 12 months after leaving the hospital, forfeit all right to the policies taken out by the hospital on their behalf. After a nurse shall have been in the service of the hospital a certain number of years, the benefits of the policy effected by the committee in her behalf, if she has complied with the rules laid down, are usually considered as belonging to her, and in such a case the policy is formally assigned to her when her pension falls due, or otherwise, 12 months after leaving the hospital. It is often a condition of the hospital policy that in case of a nurse's death or withdrawal from the fund before entering on her pension, the contributions paid by the committee shall revert to the Hospital Trust Fund, and be at the disposal of the committee, for the time being, for the benefit of the nursing staff.

The invested funds amount to over £300,000.

In order to meet the special difficulties of private nurses in regard to regular fixed monthly or periodical payments, nurses may pay into the fund at their convenience such amounts as they may be able to deposit with it. Directly these deposits amount to a sum sufficient to produce an annuity of £5 at the age fixed by the nurse, the sum will be applied to the purchase of a paid-up policy in the fund on the returnable scale, or to the payment of premiums on existing ordinary policies, as a nurse may prefer. Two and a half per cent. compound interest is allowed on deposits.

St. John Ambulance Association. Certificates of having passed an examination in the elementary principles of "home nursing and hygiene" in connection with classes held under this association are granted. Only candidates holding the "First Aid" certificate of the association can enter, but in special cases permission may be granted to hold a "nursing" course of lectures before that of the "first aid." Five lectures of 2 hours each are given. Medallions are awarded to holders of "First Aid" certificates who have been twice re-examined with not less than 12 months' interval between each examination. The "nursing" certificate may be counted as one of the re-examinations.

Society of Trained Masseuses, Trained Nurses' Club, 12 Buckingham Street, Strand, W.C.

This Society was formed in January, 1895, to improve the training and qualifications of masseuses and to organise an independent examination for them in connection with which certificates are granted. A registry for members has been established. Telegraphic address—"Fregare," London.

Trained Nurses' Annuity Fund. PRESIDENT, H.R.H. Princess Christian. HON. SECRETARY, R. Grofton-Salmond, 72 Cheapside, E.C.

Annuities of £15 are granted to superannuated trained nurses of at least 15 years' service, and at least 50 years of age. They must produce satisfactory evidence (1) of character; (2) of having nursed for 3 years in one or more of the public hospitals or acknowledged nursing institutions; and (3) of being properly trained. They should also have commenced to nurse subsequent to the year 1865. Candidates are elected by the committee, and on election shall pay £15 towards the support of the general fund. Candidates who can show that they have saved this sum will have a preference over other candidates. The invested funds amount to about £4600.

Victoria Commemoration Club, The Hospital Building, 28 and 29 Southampton Street, Strand, W.C. Telegraphic address —"Hospiciano," London. Telephone No. 2734, Gerrard. SECRETARY, Miss Helen Foggo Thomson.

This club is open to members of the nursing profession and associated workers. ENTRANCE FEE, £1 1s. ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION, £1 1s. for nurses, and £2 2s. for associated members. A nurse intending to be absent from the United Kingdom for 12 months may become a supernumerary member, paying 6s. annual subscription. On returning to the United Kingdom she is entitled to resume her enjoyment of the privileges of the club on payment of 15s., less 1s. 3d. for every complete month of the current year. Post-graduate lectures are delivered in connection with the club. Admission 1s. for each lecture for members; 1s. 6d. for non-members.

THE SOCIETY OF TRAINED MASSEUSES.

Offices: TRAINED NURSES' CLUB, 12 Buckingham Street, Strand, W.C.

OBJECTS OF THE SOCIETY.

1. To improve the training and qualifications of Masseuses, and organise an independent examination for them.

2. To establish a Registry for members, and form a centre of information for the Public on matters connected with Massage.

3. To arrange lectures, provide a good Medical reference library, and afford opportunities for the discussion of subjects of interest and importance to Masseuses.

4. To provide an organisation to which Members would have a right to apply for advice and help in professional difficulties.

The Council holds examinations three times a year; successful candidates receive the certificate of the Society.

The Medical Profession and the Public can be supplied with efficient and trustworthy daily Masseuses or Nurse-Masseuses (resident, daily, or to carry out the Nauheim Treatment). Also Teachers of Massage and Physical Exercises.

N.B.—Members of this Society only work under Medical direction.
